U.N. accepts 2 Germanys

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — East and West Germany gain full membership today in the United Nations, the world organization created at the end of World War II by the conquerors of Nazi Germany.

Entry of the two Germanys was the major item of business before the General Assembly on the opening day of its 28th annual session. A third country, the newly independent Bahamas, also was up for admission, giving the United Nations a membership of 135 countries.

The only announced opposition to the Germanys was Israel, and it was opposed to East Germany only because the Communist regime refuses to pay reparations for Nazi crimes against the Jews and is militantly pro-Arab.

The United States and other allies of West Germany dropped their long-standing opposition to East Germany as a result of the Big Four accord on Berlin and the normalization treaty between the two Germanys last year.

Admission of the Germanys symbolized the relaxation of tension in Europe in contrast to other areas of concern nowadays to the United Nations.

As the assembly members gathered for their midafternoon opening, the Security Council went into its second day of meetings on the military coup in Chile.

Opening the debate Monday, Cuban Ambassador Ricardo Alarcon Quesada accused President Nixon "and his collaborators" of instigating the overthrow of Marxist President Salvador Allende.

"The trail of blood spilled in Chile leads directly to the dark dens of the CIA and the Pentagon," Alarcon said.

U.S. Ambassador John A. Scali repeated earlier denials of American

Claim Agnew will resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senior Republican figure says he is 99½ per cent sure that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will resign, probably this week, The Washington Post said today.

The Post said that it has learned that Agnew has held lengthy discussion in the past few days on the advisability of resigning voluntarily.

The report was not flatly denied by Agnew's press secretary, J. Marsh Thomson, although he said it was "no better a story than the rumors that have been circulating about the vice president recently."

Thomson has declined to comment directly on the substance of the various news reports concerning Agnew's legal difficulties in a Maryland probe of alleged political corruption.

The Post said the unnamed senior Republican it talked to had spent two hours with Agnew last week trying to talk him out of resigning, but was convinced that he had failed and that the vice president would resign.

According to the article, the high-ranking Republican said Agnew is determined to prove that he is innocent of the charges that have been under investigation in Baltimore.

However, the newspaper said the vice president is considering resigning because of the intense pressure on his family and also because of indications that President Nixon wants him to resign.

In the past, Agnew and his aides have repeatedly discounted any possibility of resignation.

Thomson said he did not know who the prominent Republican referred to in the Post report is and said the vice president talked with several persons in the past week. He named Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott and Rep. John McClory, R-Ill., an occasional tennis partner, as among these, but said he did not have a complete list.

Hunt seeks dismissal

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Howard Hunt Jr., saying illegal acts by "responsible government officials" deprived him of a defense, has asked a federal judge to withdraw his guilty plea in the first Watergate trial and dismiss the charges against him.

Lawyers for Hunt moved Monday in U.S. District Court to dismiss the burglary, conspiracy and wiretapping charges against him on the grounds "the investigation of this case was replete with deliberate obstruction of justice, destruction and withholding of evidence, perjury and subornation of perjury."

NEW BRIDGE OPENS — Common Pleas Judge Evelyn W. Coffman cuts the ribbon to signify the opening of Robinson Road and its new bridge Monday afternoon. A number of local officials, including Charles P. Wagner, county engineer, spoke briefly about the improvement of area roads and bridges in the recent past. Prior to the ribbon-cutting ceremony, Wagner stated that, although the road had been closed for a long period, the contractors should not be blamed. They have had an uphill struggle against Mother Nature, he said. The Robinson Road improvement, eliminating a narrow, antiquated steel bridge, was financed with state funds allocated for the opening up of traffic

'30-and-out' pension in auto pact

DETROIT (AP) — A weekly limit of 14 hours of mandatory overtime and retirement with full pension after 30 years on the job were keys to the agreement reached between the Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers.

If approved by 117,000 production workers at Chrysler, the agreement would end the nation's first major industrial strike of 1973. They walked out at midnight Friday when the old contract expired.

"In industrial union terms, it certainly is a breakthrough and precedent setting," UAW President Leonard Woodcock said Monday in announcing terms of the pact with the nation's No. 3 auto maker.

But his glowing statement was not echoed on the picket line outside a key Chrysler plant in Detroit.

"They're still telling us we have to work more than eight hours a day," said John Henderson, a welder at the Mack Avenue plant.

Under the agreement, an employee cannot be forced to work more than nine hours a day or more than six days a week.

Other major provisions of the three-year pact included wage hikes of just over five per cent in the first year and three per cent in the second and third years; more inspections of plants in a bid to make them safer; and an extra paid holiday, the day after Thanksgiving. Chrysler production workers now average $5.12 an hour.

The agreement also guarantees wage parity between Chrysler's U.S. and Canadian employees. Canadian workers now receive 11 cents an hour less.

The "30-and-out" retirement package carries no minimum age. It provides a pension boost of $50 monthly starting next March and a total $200 increase by Oct. 1, 1978. The current pension is $500. It also eliminates a provision in the current contract under which retirement benefits are reduced when a retiree becomes eligible for Social Security.

The tentative agreement does not cover the 10,500 UAW-represented

More large banks boost interest rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Several more large banks have raised their prime interest rate to the record-high level of 10 per cent.

The increases from 9¾ were announced Monday despite a government request for supporting data from two other major banks that began the current round of prime rate hikes.

Father makes multiple plans with birth of sextuplets

LAKEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — Three of the six children born Sunday night to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stanek were experiencing respiratory problems today and were being administered increased doses of oxygen, hospital officials said.

Doctors were optimistic that the sextuplets, which weighed just under two pounds to just under three pounds at birth, will survive.

At 9 a.m. today hospital officials said three of the four boys were in satisfactory condition. They said the two girls and one of the boys were in fair or fair to satisfactory condition, and were experiencing respiratory problems. They were born about six weeks prematurely.

All six children are in incubators. Officials said the three in satisfactory condition were breathing with the help of little or no oxygen being added to their environment, while the others were being given increased doses of oxygen.

A hospital spokesman said Mrs. Stanek had entered the hospital about four weeks ago so that doctors could keep her under observation and administer relaxants to delay delivery as long as possible. The spokesman said she had been administered ethyl alcohol intravenously to suppress premature contractions.

Mrs. Stanek's husband was reported looking for another house, one larger than their present three-bedroom home to handle the couple's new arrivals.

"We'd known for about three weeks that there might be five or six," said Stanek, a 31-year-old accountant. "We're all very happy."

"We were hoping for a second child. We didn't really plan for having more than one at a time."

He said Mrs. Stanek was taking a fertility drug, Pergonal, prior to the births. Stanek said he and his wife are expecting the six infants to join their young son Gregory at home in six weeks.

Stanek said he and his wife are concerned about paying "thousands of dollars" in medical expenses that won't be covered by insurance, and he said his plans to look for a house with more room than his current three-bedroom home.

OK staff study of Ohio ethics legislation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Legislative Service Commission somewhat reluctantly Monday approved a staff study of campaign financing legislation Gov. John J. Gilligan may ask a special legislative session to act on next month.

The bi-partisan commission, all legislators, approved 8-3 a motion for the research work. Two members abstained from voting.

The pair who didn't vote, Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-Columbus, and Senate Minority Leader Anthony C. Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, were both critical of Gilligan's action, mainly because no specific proposals were offered at the same time.

"The governor, ever since he has been governor, has tried to use the legislature as the whipping boy for his white collar workers at Chrysler. Bargaining on an agreement for those employees continued.

Woodcock said he is certain production workers will not be back in the plants before next week because the UAW's contract ratification procedures will take at least that long.

The pact has been approved by the union's International Executive Board and the 13-member Chrysler bargaining team. It must be approved by the 200-member Chrysler Council before it is submitted to union locals for a vote by the rank and file.

Gas mileage test data released

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency released today its 1974 Who's Who of Gasoline Guzzlers, showing that the season's new cars will get slightly fewer miles per gallon, on the average, than the 1973 models.

With some new cars not yet tested, EPA reported an overall average of 15.1 miles per gallon on the 376 vehicles checked, three-tenths of a mile less than the 1973 average.

The averages ranged from 24.4 miles per gallon for 2,000-pound cars, to 15.3 mpg at 3,000 pounds, and on down to a low of 8.3 mpg in the heavyweight 5,500-pound class.

The most economical car tested was a 2,000-pound Honda Civic at 29.1 miles per gallon, followed by Toyota's Corolla-1 Coupe and Sedan at 27.1 and 24.8.

Rock-bottom among the EPA tested cars was the 4,000-pound Ferrari-365 GTB-4 with a 268-cubic-inch engine, flaring one gallon of gasoline to glide a mere 6.4 miles.

Only a drop or two better was a 5,500-pound Oldsmobile Toronado with automatic transmission, whose 445-cubic-inch engine rolled it only 6.8 miles on one gallon.

own failures," Gray said. "He wants what is going on here today — confusion. Divide and conquer."

House Speaker A. G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, defending the governor throughout the session, said he thought Gilligan was trying to help the image of the legislature.

Gilligan, in a letter to legislative leaders, said he wanted the General Assembly to come up with the campaign financing legislation, plus other election reform measures by Nov. 1, in order to make it effective for the 1974 elections.

"I don't even know if it is legal," said Calabrese, admittedly still irked with the governor for not letting him know about the special session until five minutes before Gilligan announced his plans.

Gasoline price curbs attacked by operators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gas station owners have told the Cost of Living Council that some of them are closing down because of the council's price ceilings and some others are defying the regulations.

As the council's Phase 4 price ceilings on retail gasoline were being debated in court elsewhere in the city, representatives of Western gasoline station operators and several senators spent nearly two hours Monday with council officials in a meeting arranged by Sen. Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M.

Bud Walch, an Oklahoma City gas station owner said 25 per cent of Oklahoma City gas stations have voted to shut down because they can't make a profit. Those that have decided to remain open are charging up to 4 cents over the legal price, he said.

The ceilings imposed Sept. 7 forced many stations to reduce prices by up to 3 cents a gallon.

In a separate action, a bipartisan group of 33 senators wrote council director John Dunlop that the rollbacks required of retailers while other sectors of the oil industry were allowed to raise prices are likely to force many small businessmen to close in a matter of weeks.

The ceilings were defended by Justice Department attorney William C. White before a three-judge Temporary Emergency Court of Appeals hearing four separate challenges to the regulations.

He said ceiling prices are needed to counteract "an inflationary psychology that was gripping the petroleum industry at every level" earlier this year. The government has said the ceilings were intended to roll back unjustified increases made during the spring and summer months.

Security meet begins study

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and its allies today began an attempt to punch new holes in the old Iron Curtain, joining the Soviet Union and the rest of Europe for resumption of the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe.

The head of the Swiss delegation, Rudolf Bindschedler, told delegates that declarations and proclamations will not be enough unless precise ways of carrying them out can also be developed.

"You must not forget justice," he added in an address to the brief opening session. "There cannot be a durable peace that is not based on justice."

The Soviets will be seeking first of all an accord on the "inviolability of frontiers" to strengthen their position in Europe and the position of their East German allies.

The first phase of the conference ended in Helsinki in July with agreement on general principles. The task of the second phase is to work out agreements translating those principles into concrete terms, and the job is expected to take months.

Senate panel OKs Kissinger bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved the nomination of Henry A. Kissinger to be secretary of state.

The committee voted 16 to 1 to recommend Senate confirmation of President Nixon's choice to succeed William P. Rogers.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said he voted against Kissinger as a symbolic protest against prolongation of the Vietnam war.

Kissinger, German-born former Harvard professor, is to retain his position as assistant to President Nixon for national security affairs.

Confirmation by the full Senate could come within the week.

The nomination was cleared for a committee vote with a report Monday by a two-member subcommittee that Kissinger's role in national security wiretapping "was not such as to bar him from confirmation by the Senate."

The report was filed by Sens. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J. and John Sparkman, D-

But Jerry S. Cohen, an attorney for one retailer group said the retail price of gasoline increased only about 7 per cent during the first six months of this year while wholesale prices rose 33 per cent.

At the outset of the session, White revealed that the government has exempted nonpetroleum business, like repairs and tire and battery sales, from price controls for retailers with fewer than 60 employees. He said this would include most of the country's 165,000 gasoline stations.

The court did not indicate when it would rule, but whatever the ruling gasoline prices seem certain to increase, probably no later than early next month.

If the court holds the ceilings unfair, it is likely station owners would at least be able to increase prices to where they were before Sept. 7.

Frosty air pushes south from Canada

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Temperatures dipped into the frosty 30s and 40s today from the Canadian border into the central Plains.

Just before midnight, the temperature at Topeka, Kan., dropped to 40, a record low for Sept. 17 there.

Showers and thunderstorms rumbled through the Appalachians into New England. Other showers hit widely scattered areas along the Carolina coast, in southern Florida and in Michigan.

Rain and drizzle dampened the western Washington and Oregon and northern California.

Rainfall generally was less than half an inch, except at Dothan, Ala., where 1.2 inches were measured.

Warmer temperatures and sunshine were expected later today in the nation's interior as the cold temperatures drifted eastward.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 31 at Pellston and Marquette, Mich., to 81 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Ala., who received an FBI summary of electronic surveillance of 13 government officials and four newsmen between May 1969 and February 1971.

Kissinger told the committee publicly that the telephone taps were recommended by the FBI and the attorney general to determine the source of leaks of national security information, and that he was required to identify individuals who had access to information of the type leaked.

The committee made public a two-paragraph conclusion of the Case-Sparkman report.

The two senators said the fact that the administration made the FBI summary available to them, after first resisting, "is a good omen for the development and continuation of the mutual trust which must exist between the Department of State and the executive branch in general and the Congress if the foreign policy of the nation is to have maximum support of the American people."

the legislature reconvened but he didn't elaborate on specifics.

Gilligan also wants the legislature to act upon three election reform bills left in the Senate when the legislature recessed.

The commission agreed that they would have to be introduced again as new bills to get them moving in a special session.

In other action, Gray was elected chairman of the commission replacing House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg. The chairmanship rotates among the two houses every two years.

Republicans have held the chairmanship since 1958. Democrats currently control the House while Republicans hold a one-edge vote in the Senate.

Vo-ed funding challenged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Supreme Court has been asked to prohibit a school levy for vocational education on grounds that public funds for that purpose are unconstitutional.

E. Dennis Barnes, a member of the Upper Sandusky Exempted Village School District, filed the action Monday against Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and members of the Crawford County Board of Elections.

The suit seeks to block a 3.4 mill levy for acquisition and improvement of facilities in the Crawford-Upper Sandusky Joint Vocational School District.

Barnes contends that a vocational school is generally for the purpose of preparing a student for employment and does not meet a constitutional mandate for "a system of common schools."

Citing an example of claims that vocational education reduces welfare roles, Barnes said vocational education "is welfare" and only means a person is placed on welfare at an earlier age. Asst. Atty. Gen. Thomas Martin filed a brief in which he asked that the Supreme Court deny the petition. He said Barnes has the same kind of action pending in Wyandot County Common Pleas Court and as a result, has availed himself "of adequate remedy under the law."

Gulf says Turnpike fuel may be rationed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A Gulf Oil Corp. official has told the Ohio Turnpike Commission the company may ration motor fuel sales on the turnpike.

But Allan V. Johnson, executive director of the turnpike commission, responded immediately Monday that Gulf can't "arbitrarily" limit sales to motorists under its contract for stations at turnpike plazas and threatened to go to court if necessary if Gulf does try to ration gas.

School board balks at EPA permit fee

The Washington C.H. Board of Education resolved by consensus Monday night not to pay a $25 assessment levied by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency for permits granting the school system a variation of air pollution standards set by the EPA.

The school system has been granted permits for heating unit variances for five of its seven buildings and has applied for permits for the other two.

The board has been informed that a fee of $25 is required to cover the costs of issuance of each permit, and that no facility, non-profit nor governmental, is exempted from the fee.

The board's decision not to pay the fees, termed a "protest to the exorbitant fee" by Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor, could result in action by the EPA.

According to David Rome, chief of the air permit section of the EPA in Columbus, the Ohio Revised Code provides for a fine of up to $10,000 for failing to comply with the conditions of a permit, such as paying the attached fee.

THE SIDEWALK being placed at Eastside School along Elm Street will be blacktopped as a result of board action taken Monday.

The city has expressed its intention to widen Elm Street at a later date and the board decided to use blacktop for the walk because of the probability that it will have to be replaced when the street improvement gets underway. Blacktopping will cost only one-half to one-third that of a concrete sidewalk.

The city's indication of intent does not set a time for work to begin and it may not be done for a number of years. The board feels that a sidewalk is necessary now to insure the safety of students, especially since new business places have increased traffic in that area.

Seek public vote cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new drive for public financing of federal election campaigns was launched today at hearings before the Senate elections subcommittee.

"Watergate is only the latest demonstration of the long overdue need to cleanse elections of the corrupting curse of huge private campaign contributions," said Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., spokesman for a bipartisan group of senators seeking such legislation.

"The only way to clean up the political process ... is to provide substantial financial support for elections from public funds," he said.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, in prepared testimony for the subcommittee, called public financing "our last best hope to restore full confidence in public officials and government."

The subcommittee's four days of hearings are expected to boost support for public financing of presidential and congressional campaigns, although the passage of such a bill this year is regarded as unlikely.

46 Reds killed in South Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government claimed 46 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed Monday in 56 clashes in South Vietnam but said there was not a single government casualty.

The government said the heaviest Communist toll, 26 killed, was suffered in the central highlands in attacks on government positions around Kontum.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian government reported only small-scale fighting at Kompong Cham. It said five Khmer Rouge insurgents were killed in a clash near the town's airport, and three government soldiers were wounded by harassing fire from insurgents who have the airfield encircled.

Standardized meat labeling set

WASHINGTON (AP) — When you buy a "His and Her steak" or a "Yankee pot roast" you will be able to tell what part of the animal it came from under a voluntary labeling plan announced by the meat industry.

The new program, unveiled with the government's blessing Monday by the National Livestock and Meat Board, was prompted by increasing complaints of confusing names for cuts of meat.

In New Jersey, for instance, inspectors found "deli roast" selling for $1.89 in one store earlier this year.

Major firms hit by charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four giant companies — General Motors, Ford, General Electric and Sears Roebuck — are under federal investigation in the biggest case ever of alleged discriminatory employment practices. The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission said it consolidated numerous complaints against four national corporations and the unions with which they hold contracts into a single case.

Also involved are a major construction union and the contractors and contractors' associations with which it bargains. The commission refused to name the companies or unions because of a federal law barring such disclosure until lawsuits are filed. However, all four corporations confirmed they are targets of the probe.

Commission Chairman William H. Brown III said the agency would at-

IN OTHER action the board:

— Added Mrs. Linda Bailo, Mrs. Elaine Kunz, Mrs. Helen Perrill, Mrs. Marcia Elberfeld and William Hough to the list of substitute teachers.

Sears Roebuck had no comment.

City police have arrested Artie E. Setty, 20, of Miami Trace Rd., and charged him with reckless operation and leaving the scene of an accident in connection with a hitskip accident Sunday morning.

An auto, allegedly driven by Setty, went out of control on Oakland Avenue about 2 a.m. Sunday and struck a car owned by Brian K. Balzer, 21, of 612 Oakland Ave., which was parked in front of his residence. There was major damage.

Witnesses gave the police a description of the auto which was reportedly taken to a Frankfort body shop for repair. Setty was arrested a short time later.

Six accidents were reported to police and sheriff's departments Monday. There were no injuries.

Watergate panel to hear Hunt on resumption

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee announced today it will resume public hearings on Monday with the testimony of Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt, then question three other witnesses as part of the political sabotage phase of its probe.

Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said the panel will hear from Hunt, then White House secret agent John J. Caulfield, presidential speech writer Patrick J. Pat Buchanan, and a man identified as John Ragan.

Ervin also said the panel will meet in executive session Wednesday with former special presidential counsel Charles W. Colson to determine whether Colson be called as a witness.

Colson was tentatively stricken from the witness list last week after his lawyer reportedly told the committee that Colson expected to be indicted in connection with the Ellsberg burglary. It also has been reported that Colson has indicated he would take the Fifth Amendment and refuse to testify if he were not given immunity.

The Food and Drug Administration, however, said its own tests of the same brands showed the lead content well below the danger level.

In addition to requiring that fancifully named cuts be labeled to show where they come from on the animal, the new meat industry program calls for standardizing names for the different cuts, reducing their number from 1,000 to 300.

Two of the top three national food chains, A&P and Kroger, said they would comply. Safeway said it believes it is already in compliance.

The plan would require, for example, that "London Broil" be labeled to indicate whether it was shoulder steak, flank steak or plate steak. It makes a difference in how lean the meat is.

The Cost of Living Council endorsed the program in letters to chief executives of grocery chains.

Consumers Union said it tested two cans each of six brands of condensed milk: A&P, Borden Silver Cow, Carnation Velveting, Food Fair, Grand Union Homogenized and Pet.

It said all were above the federal guideline of 0.5 parts lead per million parts of milk. The average level was 0.7, the consumer organization said.

The FDA said it tested 79 samples from 10 manufacturers, including the six tested by Consumers Union, and the highest level it found was 0.37.

"The FDA does not consider any brand of evaporated milk now on the market to be in violation of FDA rules for safety or in any way unfit for consumer use," the agency said.

Lead can cause nervous disorders or death, especially in small children.

Stock list turns mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices were mixed today as near-term profit taking eroded some early gains, brokers said.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which had gained more than 12 points in Friday and Monday trading was off 2.64 at 890.35 at noon. Advances narrowly led declines in moderate activity on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,500 common stocks was off .18 at 55.72 at noon.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was ahead .07 at 99.82.

Both IBM and Telex have been delayed in opening again today on the New York Stock Exchange. Both stocks were delayed several hours in opening Monday following the announcement of a judge's ruling in Tulsa that IBM would pay Telex $52.5 million in damages in an antitrust suit. IBM closed at 272 Monday, down 26. Telex closed at 7 1/2, up 3 1/2. Telex warrants—the right to buy Telex at $11 a share—were also delayed on the American Stock Exchange.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A lake shore warning was issued today for the southern shore of Lake Erie from Cedar Point east to Lackawana, N.Y.

The National Weather Service forecast waves six to eight feet, shore erosion and flooding for the area early today under 28-to-40-knot west and northwest winds.

The winds were forecast to decrease this afternoon and tonight, and waves tonight should range from two to four feet.

Showers ended across most of the state overnight, and at daybreak only a few showers remained in the extreme northeast along Lake Erie and into Pennsylvania.

Clearing skies were expected over the state today.

Most of the state received showers Monday, but amounts were not heavy, ranging up to .27-inch in Zanesville.

Cool temperatures were forecast to continue through Wednesday with highs today in the 60s and highs tomorrow in the 60s and low 70s.

A low pressure area pushed over the state Monday, triggering the showers. A high pushing into Ohio will dominate the weather through Wednesday.

A combination of the deepening low and the high is responsible for the high winds which produced shore warnings for Lake Erie.

There will be a chance of showers in Ohio Thursday or Friday with clearing about Saturday. Highs all three days will be in the 60s and low 70s. Lows will be in the 50s.

Engineers nix canal proposal

BUFFALO (AP) — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has announced that an All-American Canal connecting Lakes Erie and Ontario is not economically justified.

In the report released Monday, the Buffalo district office of the Corps said that some major waterway improvement was needed in the Great Lakes area either in the form of a new waterway or major structural improvements to the Welland Canal in Ontario, Canada.

"A decision must be made by 1980, assuming maximum funding support, to prevent constraint of waterborne traffic by 1990," the report said.

Firemen free girl from pickling crock

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Gail Kelly admitted she panicked when her 2 1/2-year-old daughter Erin got her hand caught in an Early American pickling crock Monday.

"She panicked and I panicked," said Mrs. Kelly. A neighbor greased Erin's arm with a lubricant, but that didn't work.

The fire department was called and managed to slide the arm out "slick as a whistle."

"It was embarrassing," said Mrs. Kelly. "But Erin just laughed and giggled. She likes firemen."

Cholera like fire, survivor says

By JOHN LUMPKIN
Associated Press Writer
PORT LAVACA, Tex. (AP) — He sat at a table, smoking an occasional cigarette and drinking coffee.
He said he didn't attach any special historical significance to his having contracted the first confirmed case of cholera in more than five decades in the United States.
He said he felt like, "Why did it have to be me?"
"But it was. And the way it turned out, I'm all right. They caught it in time. I was just lucky that they did catch it in time."
Now the 51-year-old father of three said he is ready to return to his job as a handy man. He consented to tell his story to The Associated Press as long as he wasn't identified, with the explanation that he dislikes publicity.
The victim attributed his survival to quick diagnosis by medical personnel here and treatment at Champ Traylor Hospital in this Texas coastal town. Doctors said at one point he had stopped breathing.
The victim also said he is alive because of "the good Lord. If it wasn't for Him, I wouldn't be here.... It is something that you've got to have to know how bad it really was."
"I've known pain because I had a broken back and two stomach operations and I have had pneumonia, but I've never known pain that was that bad. It just seemed like your whole body was a flame of fire."
He said he was stricken during the last week of August as he prepared to leave his trailer home at nearby Magnolia Beach on a fishing trip.
His attending physician allowed a young doctor who suspected cholera to begin treatment.
"If you go to a medical textbook and look up the symptoms of cholera, he had a classic case," the victim's doctor said.
Since he contracted the disease, the victim's family and other persons have been tested, but all tests have been negative.
"We very confidently do not expect another case of cholera," said Clayton Tolson, Calhoun County's sanitarian.
The victim said he had been told that his stomach operations had left him with less of the stomach acidity needed

Opinion And Comment

Committee not stymied

Sen. Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii has made a point about the White House tapes which merits some attention.

The courtroom efforts to force surrender of these tapes have brought many to an erroneous conclusion. This is that without these records of President Nixon's conversations with aides implicated in the Watergate scandal the Senate investigating committee will be stymied. As Sen. Inouye observes, this is not actually the case.

"As far as I'm concerned personally, he said in a television interview, "this is where the difference between a legislative proceeding and a judicial proceeding comes in. If this were a criminal matter, I would say that the tapes are absolutely necessary, essential."

The distinction is an important one. Both the federal grand jury and the Senate committee are seeking the tapes. For the committee, access to them would be desirable as a means of sorting out conflicting testimony. For the grand jury, the tapes constitute evidence vital to the determination of who shall or shall not be indicted and charged with criminal offenses.

There has been a rather widespread assumption that the Senate committee cannot produce a full report until the tapes have been heard. As Inouye notes, this is not the case. The committee has made an exhaustive investigation and has heard — and will continue to hear — voluminous testimony and response to questioning. The tapes would be a welcome addition to the material at hand, but it should be possible to produce a solid report without them.

THE NATION . . . by Martin P. Nolan

Shultz and Laird: one-eyed kings

WASHINGTON — In the valley of the blind, the one-eyed is king. That explains a lot about Melvin Robert Laird's role in the Nixon Administration.

Laird represented central Wisconsin in the state senate and in Congress for a quarter-century. Unlike Haldeman, Ehrlichman and Mitchell, unlike Kissinger, Ziegler and Haig, he had to go out and explain himself, to look people in the eye, to run for office.

But just because elective politics is considered wizardry in the White House, that does not mean that Mel Laird is as smart and sagacious as Evans and Novak say he is.

Mel Laird, in fact, can be too clever by half, manipulating the media like a mad scientist until the experiment blows up in his face and singes his Mephistophelean eyebrows.

HE DID THAT last week after President Nixon on Monday pledged no new taxes. The next day, Arthur Burns met with the President for what the White House described as "a private meeting."

Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, has his doubts as to whether inflation can be fought solely on the basis of balancing the budget and making borrowing too expensive, which is his job at the Fed.

So Burns discloses to a House committee on Wednesday that the President would be "sympathetic" to a new tax increase, to force Americans to save their money instead of throwing it on the inflation pyre.

Arthur Burns is a man the President does not want to offend, because coordination between fiscal and monetary policies really is essential.

So one can almost hear Laird's soothing advice to the President. One can almost see his grin as he says "Let me take care of this one, boss."

He trots out to the press room, unloads a prospectus for a Rube Goldberg device of "deferred" tax payments, then leaves, having presumably mollified Burns with the news that the President is seriously considering such an anti-inflation idea.

BUT IN TOKYO, George Shultz, Secretary of the Treasury and President Nixon's chief economic adviser and chief economic spokesman made Mel Laird look less like Merlin and more like the court jester.

Laird can "keep his cotton-pickin' hands off economic policy," said Shultz, as he was interrupted during vital trade negotiations with the Japanese. Shultz put down Burns, too, suggesting that both he and Laird follow the President's economic policy — woful as it may be — and "not keep sharpshooting it week after week." George Shultz, a former academic, is a candid man in an administration of be-foggers and traducers.

In the valley of the blind, he too is a one-eyed king, but his realm is one of blunt honesty, not back-slapping politics.

At least for the moment, score it for Shultz by a TKO.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Tighten reins a bit to observe with more ease and surety where you are headed. Nothing should sway you from principles, but do avoid stubbornness.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Don't be too sure that your interests are not progressing; look over the picture again. There is a proper delaying action in some areas. Don't give up.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Generally, a day for action, but be careful not to run out of bounds. On the other hand, delaying tactics could also be unwise. Judge carefully.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Beneficent solar influences continue. Take advantage of the situation. Don't expect the unreasonable in returns, however.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

You may have difficulty in persuading, gaining your point. As with Gemini, you may not see all the reasons for opposition, but do not become discouraged or back down.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Don't regard decisions made in the a.m. as final. Certain circumstances may necessitate revision later in the day.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Be cautious in dealing with associates. Some may urge you to make certain commitments against your better judgment. Don't let yourself be pressured.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Home and family concerns under highly beneficial stars. In fact, a recent domestic problem will finally be straightened out satisfactorily.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

You have good reason for optimism now. A superior's enthusiasm for your efforts not only pays off, but further spurs your ambition and incentive.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Staff changes could bring some extra chores, more responsibility, but don't be above picking another's brains for helpful guidance, if you have to do so.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Others may be overly aggressive, pressing for their "rights" to the exclusion of yours. Watch your own interests. Don't let them push you around.

YOU BORN TODAY are not only a highly individualistic person, but excessively choosy when it comes to picking out your associates. Be careful that this characteristic does not develop into snobbishness or smugness. This is especially important since you are the type of individual who will probably travel a great deal, engage in more than one occupation and meet a wide variety of people. Welcoming all into your life can broaden your horizons considerably. Curb any side of your nature which tends to be self-limiting. You are extremely versatile and could be eminently successful in the fields of education, the law, statesmanship, literature, journalism or the theater.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

On Sept. 11 there appeared in your paper an article headlined "County Health Council Eyes Major Projects." One of those projects had to do with a bill in the state legislature setting up expanded and more efficient ambulance service."

I have not had an opportunity to read the proposed bill, but there is one thing of which we can be reasonably sure — some well-paid bureaucrat is going to be placed in the position of telling us drastic changes will have to be made as far as our present ambulance service is concerned.

We could well end up with the state injecting themselves into a situation which is being very adequately handled by local people. The fact that it is adequate and satisfactory was attested to by no less an authority than the administrator of our local hospital, Mr. Kunz.

If such changes are forced by the "Know-best Planners" (probably involving abandonment of the vehicles which are now serving us so well), then I would hope the dedicated individuals who are taking training in The Emergency Service Program could be a part of the solution here in our county.

The pictures of these individuals, together with some of their vehicles and equipment appeared in the Sept. 6 Record-Herald.

My congratulations and best wishes go to these citizens and any others who are involved but did not appear in the photo.

I hope their efforts meet with unqualified success.

Hal Boyle . . . Marriage makes the husband

NEW YORK (AP) — Courtship makes the courtier. Marriage makes the husband.

When they first met, he swore he would fight through seas of flame to be at her side. After they were married, he cursed aloud if she handed him a piece of hot toast at breakfast.

He used to want to tell her with every breath he took how much he loved her. Now he probably couldn't think of the word love if he needed it to fill out a crossword puzzle.

There was a time when he couldn't keep his hands off her. But that was before they made the trip to the altar. Now if he reaches toward her, she wonders whether she should call the cops or a neighbor for help.

Before they exchanged their marital vows, he told her he wouldn't mind if they had more children than the old woman who lived in a shoe. Well, they stopped coming after four, and now when he comes home from work, he puts wax stoppers in his ears so he can't hear the kids.

Fondly she dreamed of dining by candlelight with him for the rest of their lives. Then he found out that two candles cost 49 cents, and now they eat by the light of a 60-watt bulb.

She remembers fondly how she used to cuddle in his lap for hours at a stretch. Now if she has to sit in his lap for a few moments in a crowded car coming home from a cocktail party, he welcomes her by exclaiming gaily, "All right, folks, make room for the elephant."

When they were courting they never spoke of politics. But now if she votes for the same political candidate as he does, he accuses her of having no mind of her own and mimicking him. But if she votes for a different candidate, he says she is stupid and women shouldn't have the right to vote anyway.

In his days as a romantic gallant, he rushed to take the lightest package from her arms and told her she was far too fragile to carry heavy loads. Now, when they are shopping, he hands her all the bundles, and lets her go first through the revolving doors — so she has to do most of the pushing.

Is this the guy who once promised her the moon? It is. And is it the same guy who now whines about the waste of money if she orders a 60-cent dessert on the one night a month they eat out? It is, indeed.

All in all, she realizes, their life together isn't too bad. She knows she can put up with him, but he has changed so much from the sweet boy she once knew that she wonders if she is at fault.

But she isn't to blame at all. The essential truth is:

Courtship makes a courtier; marriage changes him into a husband.

Dear Abby:

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Can a man tell if she's had silicone implants?

DEAR ABBY: Can a man tell if a woman has had silicone implants to enlarge her breasts? (I don't mean by looking, I mean by touching.)

I've talked to two girls who have had it done, and one says a man would have to be awfully dumb not to know, because hers feel like grapefruit. She said she's not sorry she did it because they look fine.

The other girl said nobody could tell she had anything done.

Are there any telltale marks? What do your experts have to say about this?

CONSIDERING IT

DEAR CONSIDERING: The girl with the "grapefruit" must have had her implants some time ago when harder materials were used. Softer material are now used that feel like the real thing.

To answer your question: Whether a man could tell if a woman had had a breast implant would depend on the amount of breast tissue she had before surgery and the way she healed. The only telltale marks are the tiny scars under the breasts, which in time becomes practically invisible. And if a layman tried to prove that a girl had had it done, he'd have his hands full.

DEAR ABBY: This may sound like I'm bragging, and I suppose I am, but this is the way it was:

A couple of weeks ago I was walking past my husband's chair in the living room when he reached out and took my hand and said: "Honey, will you marry me?" (We were married in 1935!) I said: "Are you trying to tell me we aren't married after all these years?" He grinned and replied: "Oh, we're good and married. I'm taking an early retirement, and we're going to start all over again, just the two of us, like we did 38 years ago. If you'd like to go through another wedding with me, I'd lie it, too."

Well, I sat down and bawled. I called a local minister and explained it to him, saying I hoped he wouldn't think it was funny. He said he didn't think it was funny at all, he thought it was beautiful, and he agreed to perform the ceremony for us. (We didn't need another license or blood test.)

My sister, who lives in Bishop, Calif., was my bridesmaid when we were first married, so I called her and asked if she'd do it again. She said: "Tell me when you want me, and I'll be there if I have to take a bus." My brother will be our best man.

This may strike you as nothing special, but it sure means the world to me.

MARRYING DON AGAIN

BALDWIN PARK, CALIF.
DEAR MARRYING: I think it's beautiful. Congratulations and God bless you. More couples should renew their marriage vows.

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with a recent correspondent who wrote: "Most cancer victims read the obituaries with apprehension and fear."

My vocal cords were removed by surgery 13 years ago because of throat cancer. Instead of apprehension and fear, I have confidence in the future and enjoy life today.

I am not a victim-but a victor, thanks to the progress that's made the kind of cancer I had curable in almost every instance if detected in time.

JERRY F. CROWLEY

DEAR JERRY: You are a victor indeed, and I think you for this opportunity to remind my readers to see their doctors for periodic checkups.

Ohio State ranked third

Southern Cal atop poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California again is the No. 1 team in the Associated Press college football poll. That's no surprise, since the Trojans have owned the top spot since the first week of 1972.

What is surprising is the capricious reaction of Southern Cal's coach, John McKay.

"I don't know or care whether we're rated No. 1 next week," he said Saturday night after the Trojans had recorded a 17-0 victory over Arkansas in their opener. "I didn't even think we should have been No. 1 last week."

McKay changed his line Monday, saying that USC deserves the top spot. A poll of 60 sports writers and broadcasters who participated this week gave the Trojans 38 first-place votes and a total of 1,106 points.

But Nebraska, Ohio State and Alabama, the next three ranked teams, will be out to challenge Southern Cal as the college football season enters its second week.

McKay was skeptical of the teams' chances of bumping USC from the lead, however, especially those of Ohio State, which defeated Minnesota 56-7.

"I'm not impressed with Minnesota," McKay said wryly. "They've won about three games in 10 years."

Nebraska, idle last weekend, received eight first place points and 995 points overall, and the Buckeyes took third with 11 votes for first and an aggregate of 944.

Last week the spread between the first three teams was 1,168-1,121-838.

Alabama jumped from sixth place to fourth by virtue of their 66-0 rout of California. The victory earned the Crimson Tide two first-place votes and 809 points.

Michigan topped Iowa 31-7 to retain its hold on fifth place with 666 points. Texas, which doesn't open its season until Friday night, fell from fourth to sixth with 615 points.

Penn State, the only other first-place vote-getter, took seventh with a 20-6 defeat of Stanford.

Rounding out the Top Ten were Notre Dame, which begins its season Saturday against Northwestern; Oklahoma, which clubbed Baylor 42-14 to move from 11th place to ninth, and Tennessee, which dropped from ninth to 10th despite a last-minute, 21-17 triumph over Duke.

The Second Ten included Louisiana State, Auburn, Arizona State, North Carolina State, Florida, Houston, Oklahoma State, UCLA, and Colorado, with Bowling Green and Missouri tied for 20th.

Oklahoma State, Bowling Green and Missouri are making their first appearance in the Top Twenty. They replaced North Carolina, which came from behind to trip William & Mary 34-27, and Texas Tech, which rallied for a 29-22 victory over Utah.

Last week's Second Ten was Oklahoma, Auburn, Arizona State, Florida, LSU, UCLA, North Carolina State, Houston, North Carolina and Texas Tech.

Brown Jug field ready

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — A field of 13 or more 3-year-old pacers was expected to enter the draw today for Thursday's Little Brown Jug, the final jewel of Pacing's Triple Crown.

Topping the list of expected entries were Valient Bret, winner of the Messenger Stake May 19, first event of the triple crown, and Smog, winner of the second top event, the Cane Pace July 14.

Another strong challenger and almost certain entry was Ricci Reenie Time, who had a sensational year as a 2-yearold, but got off to a slow start this season. Ricci Reenie Time has done better recently, winning four of his last five starts.

Other probable entries were J. R. Skipper, Otaro Hanover, Armbr Nesbit, Keystone Smartie, Faraway Bay, Steady Airliner, American Skipper and Playboy Hanover.

Other strong possibilities were Racking Knight and Honey Cane, who'd be bidding to become the first local horse to win the Jug.

Anderson and Bench fined by league

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Reds Manager George "Sparky" Anderson has been fined $300 and catcher Johnny Bench $200 plus a two-day suspension by the National League, it was announced Monday. Bench's case has been appealed.

The actions by National League President Charles Feeney resulted from the ejection of both Saturday night by umpire Andy Olsen.

Birds reduce number on Williams home run

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here is Manager Earl Weaver, leading the rest of baseball's American League East Division by so many games that his Baltimore Orioles don't even make Pennant Races At A Glance. And he tells you how tough things are for him these days.

"This was a big one, no doubt about it," explained Weaver after the Orioles had reduced the magic number for clinching their title to six Monday night by defeating the New York Yankees 5-4 in 10 innings on Earl Williams' home run.

Why was it big? After all, Baltimore is leading the division by 7½ games with less than two weeks to go.

"If we had lost three out of four to the Yankees, we would have had to play over .500 ball to clinch," said Weaver. "Now, we don't."

Brown says emotionalism beat Bengals

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown, scowling over his 28-10 opening game defeat Sunday by Denver, lamented he was beaten by the things a coach can't coach.

"We caught a team in an emotional frenzy," said Brown, preparing to reopen practice today. "The way to cool it off is to play defense, and we didn't."

"It started with the defense, but it got into the offense. We did move the ball, but something happened. We couldn't keep on moving it."

Brown said Denver made a shambles of the right side of the defense. The linemen on the right side are Ron Carpenter and Sherman White. Ron Pritchard is the linebacker.

"They ran to their left, our right side, an awful lot, particularly in the first half" when three touchdowns were scored. "They obviously set it up that way."

"What we're talking about here has to come from within, from the true pro. If they don't see it in the pictures today, then it's too bad, but it'll help us with our drafting plans."

Tighten Up victorious in Latonia feature

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Captain Stevens and Babington's Image, top weighted at 120 pounds, head a field of seven horses tonight in the $3,000 featured eighth race at Latonia over six furlongs.

Tighten Up won the feature Monday night in 1:15 2-5 over the same distance and paid $18.20, $7 and $6.40. Duke's Sister placed, paying $6.40 and $4.80, and Patience Pays was third at $5.

The 2-3 daily double combination of Nuthin To Eat and Pana Prince returned $90.60. The crowd of 4,471 wagered $420,732.

Oh.

So now the Birds, playing at a .591 percentage for the season, don't even have to split their remaining games to win their fourth AL East title in five years.

Elsewhere in the American League Monday night, Texas walloped Chicago 10-3, Minnesota took Kansas City 8-3 and Oakland nipped California 3-2 in 13 innings.

A's 3, Angels 2

Oakland cut its magic number for clinching the West Division championship to six by defeating California 3-2 in 13 innings.

The A's scored the winning run when Rudy May, who went all the way for the Angels, issued a bases-loaded, two-out walk to Bert Campaneris.

Rangers 10, White Sox 3

Texas got first inning home runs by Toby Harrah, Bill Madlock and Jim Fregosi for five quick runs en route to a 10-3 romp over the Chicago White Sox.

Rich Billings drove in three more runs for the Rangers with a bases-loaded double in the seventh.

Twins 8, Royals 3

Minnesota scored four runs in the seventh inning, three of them on a bases-loaded double by Tony Oliva, to defeat Kansas City 8-3.

Larry Hise homered for the Twins in the eighth and Minnesota added two more unearned runs in the ninth.

Rose cracks record in Cincy's setback

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Houston Astros snapped a seven-game winning streak for the Cincinnati Reds Monday night, but that didn't prevent Red left fielder Pete Rose from setting another record.

Houston pitcher Dave Roberts allowed the Reds seven hits in his 5-2 victory, and Rose grabbed two of them.

Rose tied, then broke a 68-year-old team record for total hits in a single season. Cy Seymour had held the record with 219 hits in 1905.

Rose got a standing ovation from the crowd of 17,585 as he took second on a run-scoring single in the fourth inning.

"That was nice," said the Reds lefthander. His 220 hits now is near tying Frankie Frisch's 1923 record of 223 hits for a switch-hitter in a single season.

"I'd like to hold every single Cincinnati record," said Rose, a Cincinnati native, "but I'm not a home run hitter so I won't set records like that."

"What I have is a chance to be the best switch-hitter of all time."

Rose earlier this season joined the 2,000 career hits club and looks forward to being the only active major leaguer to hit better than .300 for nine consecutive seasons.

"You like to see a guy like Rose set records," said Reds Manager Sparky Anderson. "He deserves it. He works so hard. I'm sure the players on the other club like to see him do things like that."

Houston Catcher Alfred "Skip" Jutze had two hits and scored twice to help defeat the National League Western Division-leading Reds.

Jutze won the Houston catching job following the injury and illness of John Edwards.

"I'm just up there swinging at the pitches I like," said Jutze. "I'm hoping that I can show the organization I can hit and catch and have a shot at next year."

Cesar Cedeño hit his 23rd homer in the first inning and Bob Watson hit his 14th in the fourth.

PETE ROSE

Hank Aaron hit another home run and there was a homer record tied in Atlanta.

But relax. You didn't sleep though Nos. 711 through 713. It wasn't Aaron's record.

Dave Johnson performed two remarkable feats Monday night when the Atlanta Braves blanked the San Diego Padres 7-0.

He belted his 42nd homer of the 1973 baseball season, tying Rogers Hornsby's mark set in 1922 for most trots around the bases by a second baseman.

But then he performed the near-impossible. He stole some of the thunder from Aaron, who belted No. 711 two batters earlier and now needs three

Concepcion promises speedy comeback bid

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Reds' shortstop Dave Concepcion, his best big league season cut short by an injury, says his comeback bid begins the day he casts off his crutches.

"I'll be ready for spring training," vowed the 25-year-old Venezuelan who broke a bone in his ankle two days before he was to accompany four Cincinnati teammates to the All-Star Game in July.

Concepcion returned last week from a three-week stay in native Maracay, Venezuela, to have his cast removed.

"I plan to start playing baseball again in December in the winter leagues. So far everything looks good. The biggest thing I have to do is forget what happened. I don't think it will be rough," he said.

Now Concepcion is back in the dugout with his Cincinnati teammates after his stint as a long-distance fan.

"I watched the papers every day in Maracay to see how my team was doing. One day they were in first place," Concepcion said.

"It hurt a lot to miss this. I would rather miss all the All-Star games to be in a World Series. When I was hurt we were five games behind Los Angeles. But I knew we would catch them," he said.

His July 22 accident occurred while he was going from first to third on an infield grounder. He caught his spikes while sliding and suffered the bone break and dislocation.

Packers smother Jets, 23-7

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ken Ellis had just been awarded the game ball, but his frown hardly reflected it.

"That last touchdown pass is still in my mind. Darn! It will take me a week to get over that," the young Green Bay cornerback fretted.

Ellis needn't worry. He was victimized on a 17 yard touchdown pass from Al Woodall to David Knight, a pair of reserves, with 27 seconds left Monday night, but by that time Ellis and his Packer defensive mates had driven the New York Jets' brilliant quarterback, Joe Namath, to the bench in abject frustration.

Smothering Namath when it counted and running a relentless ball control

DAVE CONCEPCION

"My speed should be the same," said Concepcion.

Venezuela's top baseball export since Luis Aparicio, Concepcion was hitting .287 at midseason after back-to-back seasons of .209 and .205.

His 22 steals in 26 attempts indicated the emergence of new talents. He had eight home runs and was leading the Reds in game-winning hits with nine.

offense directed by their own quarterback, the much criticized Scott Hunter, the Packers thrashed the Jets 23-7 in a nationally televised National Football League opener.

Namath, who led the NFL in touchdown passes and passing yardage last year, completed 16 of 32 for 203 yards against the National Conference's No. 1 pass defense of a year ago.

But after the Jets' first series, which ended in a missed 41 yard field goal attempt by Bobby Howfield, Namath couldn't lead the Jets past midfield until 7:41 remained to be played. By that time the Packers had sacked Namath three times and intercepted him once in rolling to a 23-0 lead.

more career homers to catch the ghost of Babe Ruth.

"Dave's your man tonight," said Aaron, who now trails Ruth's lifetime homer mark by three. "He's the one who caught a ghost."

In the other National League games, Montreal edged St. Louis 5-4, then the Cardinals beat the Expos 1n 12 innings 5-3; Pittsburgh overpowered New York 10-3; Houston downed Cincinnati 5-2; Los Angeles pounded San Francisco 7-1 and the Philadelphia-Chicago game was rained out.

Pirates 10, Mets 3

Willie Stargell drove in four runs with four extra base hits, including his 40th homer of the season, powering the Pirates to a 10-3 victory over the Mets to remain one game atop the National League East.

Expos 5-3, Cards 4-5

Felipe Alou's two-out ninth inning pinch single tied the score and Alou came around to score the game-winner on a weird single by pinch hitter Ron Woods for a 5-4 opening game victory.

The Cardinals came back to take the second game. Bernie Carbo's ninth-inning home run tied the game in the ninth and his 12th-inning single untied it in the 12th, helping St. Louis to a 5-3 victory.

In between Carbo's two hits, both teams sweated out a one-hour, 12-minute rain delay.

The split left the Expos one game back of Pittsburgh and St. Louis 2 1-2 games behind.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Chapin is a man a lot of kids look up to as the star of ABC-TV's "Make a Wish" Sunday children's series. Off-camera, he's looked up to by most adults, partly because he stands 6 foot 5.
He was a basketball star at New York's Plattsburgh State College and could have turned pro. Instead, he chose to carve out a career as a singer-guitarist, having performed professionally since age 14.
Chapin, 28, is into what you'd call the folk-rock bag. When interviewed last week, he was working on said bag with Mt. Airy, a five-man band with a good local reputation but no record contract yet.
They were rehearsing at a dingy studio deep in the heart of Manhattan's garment district. Afterwards, he was led to a nearby saloon — he doesn't drink, but no coffee shop was open — to talk about his show.
He was accompanied by two of the guys in the band — his brother, Steve, who plays bass, and Bob Hinkel, a guitarist. They all grinned now and then as Tom explained how he got into the television business.
"I was playing with a group called the Chapins, which included Steve and myself and two other guys," he said. "We were semimaking a living when I heard the 'Make a Wish' people needed a host."
"They'd gone through most of the actor types in New York and couldn't find anybody. I'm not even sure if they knew what they were looking for, but they were calling around the folk (music) houses and looking for a folk singer."

Chapin, a friendly, unpretentious minstrel, said he immediately presented himself at ABC and "met this woman and she sort of just looks at me. Then he sits me down and starts walking around."
"She says, 'Very interesting' and calls in another woman and they both look at me. Then we do some screen tests with a bunch of other dudes ... and they finally decide on me."
Chapin now is in his third year as star of "Make a Wish," a series that has won a Peabody Award and his recommended for viewing by the National Educational Association, according to ABC.

Ohio Perspective

Lieutenant governorship studied

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Many Democrats who would like to make up the party's 1974 state ticket would like to see former astronaut John Glenn Jr. change his mind about running for lieutenant governor.

It isn't likely, unless someone can change what seems to be a completely made-up mind. Glenn wants to make another bid for U. S. Senate and says at this point he is interested in nothing else.

Personnel issues on county school agenda tonight

Personnel matters are expected to top the agenda for members of the Fayette County Board of Education at the regular semi-monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Superintendent Guy M. Foster said the board will consider employment of three teachers, including a special education instructor. The board will also hear a teacher resignation and the retirement of another teacher in addition to employing several substitute teachers, bus drivers and cooks.

A report on student transfers and a report on the campaign for the proposed junior high school will be heard by board members. The board is expected to authorize driver education classes to be held in the evenings and Saturday, beginning Sept. 29.

Board members will hear a report on lunchroom service and miscellaneous matters, including requests for attendance at professional meetings, a tuition request and review of the monthly financial statement.

Ministers to meet

The Fayette County Ministerial Association will hold its regular meeting at 8:45 a.m. Thursday in the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Gerald Wheat, secretary of the association, said all ministers in Fayette County are invited to attend.

Redman revenues up

DALLAS, Tex. — Redman Industries, Inc. announces that August revenues for manufacturing operations were $24,951,000, up 18.8 per cent over the previous August revenues of $21,000,000.

Gov. John J. Gilligan is known to be looking over other prospects to share the ticket with him next year. He and the lieutenant governor candidate will run separately, but Gilligan is sure to have a lot to say about the No. 2 candidate so the party will have a team in spirit if not in law.

Leaders of the Democratic-Ohio House would seem a likely place for the governor to turn, and at least one leader makes no secret he is ready to accept the nod.

Rep. Richard F. Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, the House majority whip, is reported deeply interested in making a bid for lieutenant governor, but would like to get the nod either overtly or covertly from Gilligan, close associates say.

Celeste carried the ball in several key legislative programs for the governor in the 1973 session, and had a hand in producing a House-Senate compromise in a successful code of ethics bill which Gilligan called his No. 1 legislative priority.

Celeste, a second-term representative, impressed some political observers with his vote-getting ability in the 5th District of crucial Cuyahoga County where he polled 60 per cent of the votes in 1972. He overcame a 52-48 per cent Republican district registration edge.

Senate Democratic Leader Anthony O. Calabrese, D-22, Cleveland, was the party's candidate for lieutenant governor in 1970. He ran well against long-time GOP incumbent, Lt. Gov. John W. Brown. Brown won by only 155,186 votes out of 2,954,488 cast.

However, Gilligan and Calabrese, a tough political fighter and strong party voice for many years, have basic difference in style as well as philosophy. Their legislative differences in recent months seem only to have broadened the gap.

Meanwhile, Celeste — and no doubt others — are awaiting some word on Gilligan's preference. Friends describe the 35-year-old Celeste as "a party man," and say he will go along with the governor's choice. He reportedly would make the race for secretary of state if the No. 2 spot isn't open to him.

Opening lead — king of diamonds. Assume you're in six hearts and West leads the king of diamonds. How would you play the hand?

To give yourself the best chance for the contract, ruff the diamond and lead the A-K of trumps. If the trumps are divided 2-2, you can assure the contract by cashing the ace of clubs and continuing with a low club. (You can't afford to cash the ace and then the king, because you would go down if either opponent had four or five clubs headed by the queen.)

If the trumps are divided 3-1, with East having three of them, cash the A-K of spades and ace of clubs before leading a third round of trumps. If East returns a spade or a diamond you have twelve ironclad tricks, so he will presumably return a club. All you can do in that case is finesse and hope for the best.

If it turns out that West is the player with three trumps — the actual case — you put him on the lead with a trump after cashing the A-K of spades.

He is then forced to return a spade, a diamond or a club, every one of which puts you in clover. Twelve tricks, easy as pie.

By adopting the recommended method of play you give yourself about a 4 to 1 shot at the contract, which is clearly the best you can do under the circumstances.

But note that if you win the opening diamond lead in dummy with the ace, you seriously jeopardize your chances of making the slam and, in the actual case, finish down one.

Exercise for Housewives

Most of my day is filled with taking care of the house and the children. I feel the need for some disciplined exercise, but there are no programs in the small town in which I live.

Do you know of any home-study course in exercise that would be beneficial to a busy mother?

Mrs. J.G., Ind.

Dear Mrs. G.:

Some people would assume that running a household and caring for children would be exercise enough.

Yet there is an important need for specialized exercise to stimulate the blood circulation and the tone of muscles not used in ordinary chores.

It is accepted that some form of regulated exercise is of extreme benefit, physically and emotionally, not only to housewives but to everyone who falls into a pattern of muscular stagnation.

Let's face it, home movies are back. The big reason is the new existing-light cameras now on the market. If you still belong to the old school and think that you have to get out movie lights to shoot color movies in the house at night then you better shift to the new idea now. If you can see it, you can shoot it — that's the story with the XL55 and XL33 movies. Shoot by candlelight, shoot the action around a campfire, night football; this is what you've been waiting for.

How come you can get these shots now when you couldn't before? The reasons are many. For starters there is the superfast f-1.2 Ektar lens; and then there's the 230 degree shutter that delivers 40 per cent more light than the conventional 165 degree shutter. The new viewfinder doesn't steal valuable light from the film image, and the double-vane exposure control that allows all possible light to get right on through to the film. Add these features to the super-fast Kodak Ektachrome 160 movie film which is four times faster than conventional super 8 films and you can get some idea why you can now throw away the movie lights.

A whole new world is now opened up to the movie maker. Shoot it as it really is. No more cords. No more lights. No more unnatural, squinting expressions.

The fall season of KCFN classes got underway last week with some fundamental stuff on choosing camera and film. This week's session will move on to getting full use from your camera. It's not too late to get in on the fall session; so drop in and ask about these classes.

Many commuters never enter cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commuters are changing their spots, says The Road Information Program. Millions of metropolitan workers now drive to work and back without entering the central city.

By 1985, suburb-to-suburb travel will represent more than half of the work trips near our cities, according to the nonprofit research and information agency.

TRIP says the nation's capital is a good example of suburb liberation. Here, 41 per cent of all Washington-area commuters never enter the city.

OFFICE OPENS — William Barnes, right, administrator of the Bureau of Employment Services, was present Tuesday morning to officially open the Washington C. H. office of OBES this morning. Presenting the keys to the new office at 7 Fayette Center is Robert Mace, Chairman of the Fayette County Board of Commissioners. At left is Gayle Kelley, manager of the local office.

Dedication ceremonies held at new OBES office here

Dedication ceremonies for the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services (OBES) office were held Tuesday morning at 7 Fayette Center.

Theme of the office dedication was "The Ohio Bureau of Employment Services: Key to Community Growth." "The Employment Services aids community development with programs and benefits calculated to assist employers and reduce unemployment, Cayle Kelly, OBES local manager, explained.

The featured speaker, OBES Administrator William E. Barnes, noted the many changes in employment service operations since the first office opened in Washington C.H. Jan. 1, 1941, at 104 E. Market St.

In 1941 the employment service was merely a labor exchange.

"Today, the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services provides effective job placement service, employment counseling and testing, and special services to veterans," Barnes said. "OBES maintains cooperative relationships with other government and community agencies, too," he added.

CITY MANAGER Dan Wolford welcomed the public to the new office and commented on the meaningful relationship the employment bureau enjoys with the city's employers.

Between January and August of this year, Mrs. Kelly's staff of seven has made 474 job placements and processed 1,333 initial claims for unemployment compensation.

Fred Domenico, president of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce presented Mrs. Kelly with a certificate of service to the community.

Administrator Barnes then accepted the key to the office from Robert Mace, chairman of the Fayette County Board of Commissioners.

The Rev. Ralph Wolford, of the First Baptist Church, delivered both the invocation and benediction. Dedication ceremonies were followed by a day-long open house.

Hospital trustees review weekend emergency service

The Board of Trustees of Fayette Memorial Hospital reviewed the contract with out-of-town physicians to provide weekend emergency room service and authorized Robert L. Kunz, hospital administrator, to check the possibility of providing fulltime emergency room service by a physician, who would work with the hospital medical staff.

Results of his study probably will be made to the board at its October meeting.

The board also awarded to the Culligan Soft Water Service a contract to install new water conditioning equipment to replace the 23-year-old system. The Culligan bid of $3,794 was the lowest and best of the three bids received.

Preliminary plans were made for a recognition dinner for hospital volunteers, who have contributed 250, 500, 1,000 or more hours to service at the hospital and to employees employed for 5, 10, 15 and 20 years. The place and date for the affair will be set later.

The administrator's report on hospital operations for August showed 387 admissions; 388 discharges; 2,251 in-patient days; 72.61 daily census; 57 births; 187 baby patient days; 13 deaths; 83.46 percentage occupancy; 91.98 percentage occupancy in medical and surgical departments; 5.02 days length of patient stay; 7.02 days average length of patient stay in medical and surgical departments; 817 X-rays made; 5,056 laboratory procedures; 1,138 emergency room patients; 126 physical therapy cases; 642 inhalation treatments; 56 major operations and 103 minor operations.

Burnett-Ducey Post adds 7 new members

Seven new members were accepted by Burnett-Ducey Post 3493, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the bi-monthly meeting in the VFW home, W. Elm St. They are Eddie L. Jones, Wayne Rudduck, John Fettes, Ernest Stanforth, Clark Rumer Jr., Charles Bradshaw and Bart Mahoney.

Chester Hamulak read a letter from Congressman William J. Harsha saying a bill to raise veteran pensions to compensate for the rise in the cost of living has been passed by the House. A letter from Sen. Max Dennis saying his bill to change Veterans Day back to Nov. 11 is still in the Ohio legislature; the bill was endorsed by the VFW post.

The post agreed to distribute to local places of business the "Hire the Handicapped" posters now being prepared by the state.

After adjournment of the meeting, conducted by Commander Ben Jamison, coffee and rolls were served by members of the Auxiliary.

Chest leaders announce 'recognition incentive'

A new recognition incentive has been added to this year's Community Chest drive, according to President Lee Lynch.

Businesses and industries and their employee groups will be recognized for the investment they make, and the percentage of participation from their employee groups.

A Red Feather Club designation will be given to all individuals and smaller businesses who contribute $100 or more to the 1974 campaign.

The business and industry portion of the drive got underway Monday, with the rural campaign slated to begin Oct. 1, and the city residential effort set for the week of Oct. 8.

Bahamas also up for admission

U.N. accepts 2 Germanys

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — East and West Germany gain full membership today in the United Nations, the world organization created at the end of World War II by the conquerors of Nazi Germany.

Entry of the two Germanys was the major item of business before the General Assembly on the opening day of its 28th annual session. A third country, the newly independent Bahamas, also was up for admission, giving the United Nations a membership of 135 countries.

The only announced opposition to the Germanys was Israel, and it was opposed to East Germany only because the Communist regime refuses to pay reparations for Nazi crimes against the Jews and is militantly pro-Arab.

The United States and other allies of West Germany dropped their long-standing opposition to East Germany as a result of the Big Four accord on Berlin and the normalization treaty between the two Germanys last year.

Admission of the Germanys symbolized the relaxation of tension in Europe in contrast to other areas of concern nowadays to the United Nations.

As the assembly members gathered for their midafternoon opening, the Security Council went into its second day of meetings on the military coup in Chile.

Opening the debate Monday, Cuban Ambassador Ricardo Alarcon Quesada accused President Nixon "and his collaborators" of instigating the overthrow of Marxist President Salvador Allende.

"The trail of blood spilled in Chile leads directly to the dark dens of the CIA and the Pentagon," Alarcon said.

U.S. Ambassador John A. Scali repeated earlier denials of American involvement and branded Alarcon's speech "lie after lie."

The stormiest issue before the General Assembly is expected to be the future of the U.N. Command in Korea, a remnant of the Korean War that today is made up only of the United States and South Korea. China, the Soviet Union and a score of other nations have called for dissolution of the command and withdrawal of its 40,000 American troops.

NEW BRIDGE OPENS — Common Pleas Judge Evelyn W. Coffman cuts the ribbon to signify the opening of Robinson Road and its new bridge Monday afternoon. A number of local officials, including Charles P. Wagner, county engineer, spoke briefly about the improvement of area roads and bridges in the recent past. Prior to the ribbon-cutting ceremony, Wagner stated that, although the road had been closed for a long period, the contractors should not be blamed. They have had an uphill struggle against Mother Nature, he said. The Robinson Road improvement, eliminating a narrow, antiquated steel bridge, was financed with state funds allocated for the opening up of traffic bottlenecks.

'30-and-out' pension in auto pact

DETROIT (AP) — A weekly limit of 14 hours of mandatory overtime and retirement with full pension after 30 years on the job were keys to the agreement reached between the Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers.

If approved by 117,000 production workers at Chrysler, the agreement would end the nation's first major industrial strike of 1973. They walked out at midnight Friday when the old contract expired.

"In industrial union terms, it certainly is a breakthrough and precedent setting," UAW President Leonard Woodcock said Monday in announcing terms of the pact with the nation's No. 3 auto maker.

But his glowing statement was not echoed on the picket line outside a key Chrysler plant in Detroit.

"They're still telling us we have to work more than eight hours a day," said John Henderson, a welder at the Mack Avenue plant.

Under the agreement, an employee cannot be forced to work more than nine hours a day or more than six days a week.

Other major provisions of the three-year pact included wage hikes of just over five per cent in the first year and three per cent in the second and third years; more inspections of plants in a bid to make them safer; and an extra paid holiday, the day after Thanksgiving. Chrysler production workers now average $5.12 an hour.

The agreement also guarantees wage parity between Chrysler's U.S. and Canadian employees. Canadian workers now receive 11 cents an hour less.

The "30-and-out" retirement package carries no minimum age. It provides a pension boost of $50 monthly starting next March and a total $200 increase by Oct. 1, 1978. The current pension is $500. It also eliminates a provision in the current contract under which retirement benefits are reduced when a retiree becomes eligible for Social Security.

The tentative agreement does not cover the 10,500 UAW-represented

boost interest rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Several more large banks have raised their prime interest rate to the record-high level of 10 per cent.

The increases from 9½ were announced Monday despite a government request for supporting data from two other major banks that began the current round of prime rate hikes.

Father makes multiple plans with birth of sextuplets

LAKEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — Three of the six children born Sunday night to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stanek were experiencing respiratory problems today and were being administered increased doses of oxygen, hospital officials said.

Doctors were optimistic that the sextuplets, which weighed just under two pounds to just under three pounds at birth, will survive.

At 9 a.m. today hospital officials said three of the four boys were in satisfactory condition. They said the two girls and one of the boys were in fair or fair to satisfactory condition, and were experiencing respiratory problems. They were born about six weeks prematurely.

All six children are in incubators. Officials said the three in satisfactory condition were breathing with the help of little or no oxygen being added to their environment, while the others were being given increased doses of oxygen.

A hospital spokesman said Mrs. Stanek had entered the hospital about four weeks ago so that doctors could keep her under observation and administer relaxants to delay delivery as long as possible. The spokesman said she had been administered ethyl alcohol intravenously to suppress premature contractions.

Mrs. Stanek's husband was reported looking for another house, one larger than their present three-bedroom home to handle the couple's new arrivals.

"We'd known for about three weeks that there might be five or six," said Stanek, a 31-year-old accountant. "We're all very happy."

"We were hoping for a second child. We didn't really plan for having more than one at a time."

He said Mrs. Stanek was taking a fertility drug, Pergonal, prior to the births. Stanek said he and his wife are expecting the six infants to join their young son Gregory at home in six weeks.

Stanek said he and his wife are concerned about paying "thousands of dollars" in medical expenses that won't be covered by insurance, and he said his plans to look for a house with more room than his current three-bedroom home.

OK staff study of Ohio ethics legislation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Legislative Service Commission somewhat reluctantly Monday approved a staff study of campaign financing legislation Gov. John J. Gilligan may ask a special legislative session to act on next month.

The bi-partisan commission, all legislators, approved 8-3 a motion for the research work. Two members abstained from voting.

The pair who didn't vote, Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-Columbus, and Senate Minority Leader Anthony C. Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, were both critical of Gilligan's action, mainly because no specific proposals were offered at the same time.

"The governor, ever since he has been governor, has tried to use the legislature as the whipping boy for his

Woodcock said he is certain production workers will not be back in the plants before next week because the UAW's contract ratification procedures will take at least that long.

The pact has been approved by the union's International Executive Board and the 13-member Chrysler bargaining team. It must be approved by the 200-member Chrysler Council before it is submitted to union locals for a vote by the rank and file.

Gas mileage test data released

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency released today its 1974 Who's Who of Gasoline Guzzlers, showing that the season's new cars will get slightly fewer miles per gallon, on the average, than the 1973 models.

With some new cars not yet tested, EPA reported an overall average of 15.1 miles per gallon on the 376 vehicles checked, three-tenths of a mile less than the 1973 average.

The averages ranged from 24.4 miles per gallon for 2,000-pound cars, to 15.3 mpg at 3,000 pounds, and on down to a low of 8.3 mpg in the heavyweight 5,500-pound class.

The most economical car tested was a 2,000-pound Honda Civic at 29.1 miles per gallon, followed by Toyota's Corolla-1 Coupe and Sedan at 27.1 and 24.8.

Rock-bottom among the EPA tested cars was the 4,000-pound Ferrari-365 GTB-4 with a 268-cubic-inch engine, flaring one gallon of gasoline to glide a mere 6.4 miles.

Only a drop or two better was a 5,500-pound Oldsmobile Toronado with automatic transmission, whose 445-cubic-inch engine rolled it only 6.8 miles on one gallon.

own failures," Gray said. "He wants what is going on here today — confusion. Divide and conquer."

House Speaker A. G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, defending the governor throughout the session, said he thought Gilligan was trying to help the image of the legislature.

Gilligan, in a letter to legislative leaders, said he wanted the General Assembly to come up with the campaign financing legislation, plus other election reform measures by Nov. 1, in order to make it effective for the 1974 elections.

"I don't even know if it is legal," said Calabrese, admittedly still irked with the governor for not letting him know about the special session until five minutes before Gilligan announced his plans.

Gasoline price curbs attacked by operators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gas station owners have told the Cost of Living Council that some of them are closing down because of the council's price ceilings and some others are defying the regulations.

As the council's Phase 4 price ceilings on retail gasoline were being debated in court elsewhere in the city, representatives of Western gasoline station operators and several senators spent nearly two hours Monday with council officials in a meeting arranged by Sen. Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M.

Bud Walch, an Oklahoma City gas station owner said 25 per cent of Oklahoma City gas stations have voted to shut down because they can't make a profit. Those that have decided to remain open are charging up to 4 cents over the legal price, he said.

The ceilings imposed Sept. 7 forced many stations to reduce prices by up to 3 cents a gallon.

In a separate action, a bipartisan group of 33 senators wrote council director John Dunlop that the rollbacks required of retailers while other sectors of the oil industry were allowed to raise prices are likely to force many small businessmen to close in a matter of weeks.

The ceilings were defended by Justice Department attorney William C. White before a three-judge Temporary Emergency Court of Appeals hearing four separate challenges to the regulations.

He said ceiling prices are needed to counteract "an inflationary psychology that was gripping the petroleum industry at every level" earlier this year. The government has said the ceilings were intended to roll back unjustified increases made during the spring and summer months.

Security meet begins study

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and its allies today began an attempt to punch new holes in the old Iron Curtain, joining the Soviet Union and the rest of Europe for resumption of the Conference on Security and Cooperation and Europe.

The head of the Swiss delegation, Rudolf Bindschedler, told delegates that declarations and proclamations will not be enough unless precise ways of carrying them out can also be developed.

"You must not forget justice," he added in an address to the brief opening session. "There cannot be a durable peace that is not based on justice."

The Soviets will be seeking first of all an accord on the "inviolability of frontiers" to strengthen their position in Europe and the position of their East German allies.

The first phase of the conference ended in Helsinki in July with agreement on general principles. The task of the second phase is to work out agreements translating those principles into concrete terms, and the job is expected to take months.

Senate panel OKs Kissinger bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved the nomination of Henry A. Kissinger to be secretary of state.

The committee voted 16 to 1 to recommend Senate confirmation of President Nixon's choice to succeed William P. Rogers.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said he voted against Kissinger as a symbolic protest against prolongation of the Vietnam war.

Kissinger, German-born former Harvard professor, is to retain his position as assistant to President Nixon for national security affairs.

Confirmation by the full Senate could come within the week.

The nomination was cleared for a committee vote with a report Monday by a two-member subcommittee that Kissinger's role in national security wiretapping "was not such as to bar him from confirmation by the Senate."

The report was filed by Sens. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J. and John Sparkman, D-

But Jerry S. Cohen, an attorney for one retailer group said the retail price of gasoline increased only about 7 per cent during the first six months of this year while wholesale prices rose 33 per cent.

At the outset of the session, White revealed that the government has exempted nonpetroleum business, like repairs and tire and battery sales, from price controls for retailers with fewer than 60 employees. He said this would include most of the country's 165,000 gasoline stations.

The court did not indicate when it would rule, but whatever the ruling gasoline prices seem certain to increase, probably no later than early next month.

If the court holds the ceilings unfair, it is likely station owners would at least be able to increase prices to where they were before Sept. 7.

Frosty air pushes south from Canada

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures dipped into the frosty 30s and 40s today from the Canadian border into the central Plains.

Just before midnight, the temperature at Topeka, Kan., dropped to 40, a record low for Sept. 17 there.

Showers and thunderstorms rumbled through the Appalachians into New England. Other showers hit widely scattered areas along the Carolina coast, in southern Florida and in Michigan.

Rain and drizzle dampened the western Washington and Oregon and northern California.

Rainfall generally was less than half an inch, except at Dothan, Ala., where 1.2 inches were measured.

Warmer temperatures and sunshine were expected later today in the nation's interior as the cold temperatures drifted eastward.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 31 at Pellston and Marquette, Mich., to 81 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Claim Agnew will resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senior Republican figure says he is 99½ per cent sure that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will resign, probably this week, The Washington Post said today.

The Post said that it has learned that Agnew has held lengthy discussion in the past few days on the advisability of resigning voluntarily.

The report was not flatly denied by Agnew's press secretary, J. Marsh Thomson, although he said it was "no better a story than the rumors that have been circulating about the vice president recently."

Thomson has declined to comment directly on the substance of the various news reports concerning Agnew's legal difficulties in a Maryland probe of alleged political corruption.

The Post said the unnamed senior Republican it talked to had spent two hours with Agnew last week trying to talk him out of resigning, but was convinced that he had failed and that the vice president would resign.

According to the article, the high-ranking Republican said Agnew is determined to prove that he is innocent of the charges that have been under investigation in Baltimore.

However, the newspaper said the vice president is considering resigning because of the intense pressure on his family and also because of indications that President Nixon wants him to resign.

In the past, Agnew and his aides have repeatedly discounted any possibility of resignation.

Thomson said he did not know who the prominent Republican referred to in the Post report is and said the vice president talked with several persons in the past week. He named Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott and Rep. John McClory, R-Ill., an occasional tennis partner, as among these, but said he did not have a complete list.

Hunt seeks dismissal

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Howard Hunt Jr., saying illegal acts by "responsible government officials" deprived him of a defense, has asked a federal judge to withdraw his guilty plea in the first Watergate trial and dismiss the charges against him.

Lawyers for Hunt moved Monday in U.S. District Court to dismiss the burglary, conspiracy and wiretapping charges against him on the grounds "the investigation of this case was replete with deliberate obstruction of justice, destruction and withholding of evidence, perjury and subornation of perjury."

Vo-ed funding challenged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Supreme Court has been asked to prohibit a school levy for vocational education on grounds that public funds for that purpose are unconstitutional.

E. Dennis Barnes, a member of the Upper Sandusky Exempted Village School District, filed the action Monday against Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and members of the Crawford County Board of Elections.

The suit seeks to block a 3.4 mill levy for acquisition and improvement of facilities in the Crawford-Upper Sandusky Joint Vocational School District.

Barnes contends that a vocational school is generally for the purpose of preparing a student for employment and does not meet a constitutional mandate for "a system of common schools."

Citing an example of claims that vocational education reduces welfare roles, Barnes said vocational education "is welfare" and only means a person is placed on welfare at an earlier age. Asst. Atty. Gen. Thomas Martin filed a brief in which he asked that the Supreme Court deny the petition. He said Barnes has the same kind of action pending in Wyandot County Common Pleas Court and as a result, has availed himself "of adequate remedy under the law."

Gulf says Turnpike fuel may be rationed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A Gulf Oil Corp. official has told the Ohio Turnpike Commission the company may ration motor fuel sales on the turnpike.

But Allan V. Johnson, executive director of the turnpike commission, responded immediately Monday that Gulf can't "arbitrarily" limit sales to motorists under its contract for stations at turnpike plazas and threatened to go to court if necessary if Gulf does try to ration gas.

School board balks at EPA permit fee

The Washington C.H. Board of Education resolved by consensus Monday night not to pay a $25 assessment levied by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency for permits granting the school system a variation of air pollution standards set by the EPA.

The school system has been granted permits for heating unit variances for five of its seven buildings and has applied for permits for the other two.

The board has been informed that a fee of $25 is required to cover the costs of issuance of each permit, and that no facility, non-profit nor governmental, is exempted from the fee.

The board's decision not to pay the fees, termed a "protest to the exorbitant fee" by Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor, could result in action by the EPA.

According to David Rome, chief of the air permit section of the EPA in Columbus, the Ohio Revised Code provides for a fine of up to $10,000 for failing to comply with the conditions of a permit, such as paying the attached fee.

THE SIDEWALK being placed at Eastside School along Elm Street will be blacktopped as a result of board action taken Monday.

The city has expressed its intention to widen Elm Street at a later date and the board decided to use blacktop for the walk because of the probability that it will have to be replaced when the street improvement gets underway. Blacktopping will cost only one-half to one-third that of a concrete sidewalk.

The city's indication of intent does not set a time for work to begin and it may not be done for a number of years. The board feels that a sidewalk is necessary now to insure the safety of students, especially since new business places have increased traffic in that area.

Seek public vote cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new drive for public financing of federal election campaigns was launched today at hearings before the Senate elections subcommittee.

"Watergate is only the latest demonstration of the long overdue need to cleanse elections of the corrupting curse of huge private campaign contributions," said Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., spokesman for a bipartisan group of senators seeking such legislation.

"The only way to clean up the political process ... is to provide substantial financial support for elections from public funds," he said.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, in prepared testimony for the subcommittee, called public financing "our last best hope to restore full confidence in public officials and government."

The subcommittee's four days of hearings are expected to boost support for public financing of presidential and congressional campaigns, although the passage of such a bill this year is regarded as unlikely.

46 Reds killed in South Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government claimed 46 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed Monday in 56 clashes in South Vietnam but said there was not a single government casualty.

The government said the heaviest Communist toll, 26 killed, was suffered in the central highlands in attacks on government positions around Kontum.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian government reported only small-scale fighting at Kompung Cham. It said five Khmer Rouge insurgents were killed in a clash near the town's airport, and three government soldiers were wounded by harassing fire from insurgents who have the airfield encircled.

Standardized meat labeling set

WASHINGTON (AP) — When you buy a "His and Her steak" or a "Yankee pot roast" you will be able to tell what part of the animal it came from under a voluntary labeling plan announced by the meat industry.

The new program, unveiled with the government's blessing Monday by the National Livestock and Meat Board, was prompted by increasing complaints of confusing names for cuts of meat.

In New Jersey, for instance, inspectors found "deli roast" selling for $1.89 in one store earlier this year.

Major firms hit by charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four giant companies — General Motors, Ford, General Electric and Sears Roebuck — are under federal investigation in the biggest case ever of alleged discriminatory employment practices.

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission said it consolidated numerous complaints against four national corporations and the unions with which they hold contracts into a single case.

Also involved are a major construction union and the contractors and contractors' associations with which it bargains.

The commission refused to name the companies or unions because of a federal law barring such disclosure until lawsuits are filed. However, all four corporations confirmed they are targets of the probe.

Commission Chairman William H. Brown III said the agency would at-

Superintendent Nestor was awarded the task of re-evaluating the property valuation of school buildings and then contacting local agents to obtain property insurance. A partial premium has been paid to insure the buildings through December under the present contract.

Miami University has agreed tentatively to offer an extension course in the middle school concept at the Junior High Building this fall. The board hopes to encourage as many teachers in the system to attend as possible. The course will provide four quarter-hours of college credit and will cost each teacher enrolled approximately $50.

IN OTHER action the board:

— Set aside the afternoon of Oct. 18 for parent-teacher conferences.

— Granted a number of teachers permission to attend seminars and conferences within their field. The board will pay the registration fees.

— Added Mrs. Linda Bailo, Mrs. Elaine Kunz, Mrs. Helen Perrill, Mrs. Marcia Elberfeld and William Hough to the list of substitute teachers.

— Agreed to a proposal by Fayette Memorial Hospital whereby Eastside Elementary School and Washington Senior High Schools could be used for patient overflow in case of a disaster.

— Heard a progress report on the "mini-course program" at the Junior High from Principal Ben Roby.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland's longest strike of the year ended Monday and the workers report back to the salt mines today. No joke.

The 140-day salt miners' strike began May 1 at the International Salt Co. mine in the Cleveland Flats. The mine tunnels under the harbor and out into Lake Erie.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has chosen CM. Sgt. Thomas N. Barnes as its top enlisted man. A spokesman said it was the first time any of the military services have selected a black for the highest-ranking enlisted position.

Barnes, 43, is a native of Chester, Pa. He is now serving as senior enlisted adviser at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Skylab 2 astronauts began the final week of their record 59-day space flight today, facing a full schedule before their return to earth next Tuesday.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The military junta relaxed the curfew for an extra hour in Santiago tonight, until 8 p.m., in honor of the 163rd anniversary of Chile's independence but planned no official celebration in the tense, uncertain capital.

Jogging dangerous for Clermont judge

MOUNT CARMEL, Ohio (AP) — Clermont County Judge Chris Rosehoffer won't be jogging for awhile when he gets out of the hospital.

One of his three German shepherd dogs got too exuberant Tuesday and jumped on the judge as he trotted. The judge suffered a broken hip.

Elsewhere the same cut, top round, was selling for $1.49 a pound.

David H. Stroud, president of the board, said its standardization program "will do two things: reduce shopper confusion and help consumers make wiser, more economical decisions."

In other food news, the government predicted another record crop year in 1974 but no general decline in retail prices.

And Consumers Union said it had tested six brands of condensed milk and found hazardous levels of lead contamination from solder used in making tempt to negotiate voluntary settlements with those cited. "If settlement cannot be reached, however, the commission will consider taking the cases to court," he said.

General Motors, Ford and General Electric issued statements denying the charges, which include allegations of job discrimination on the basis of race, color, creed, sex and national origin.

They relate to such areas as wages, benefits, union representation, layoffs, promotion and seniority.

Sears Roebuck had no comment. The unions involved include the United Auto Workers, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, International Union of Electrical Workers and others in the auto and electrical industries. Only the IUE commented, saying it would cooperate fully in the investigation.

Identities of the construction union and contractors could not be learned.

Driver, 20, held by police after hitskip accident

City police have arrested Artie E. Setty, 20, of Miami Trace Rd., and charged him with reckless operation and leaving the scene of an accident in connection with a hitskip incident Sunday morning.

An auto, allegedly driven by Setty, went out of control on Oakland Avenue about 2 a.m. Sunday and struck a car owned by Brian K. Balzer, 21, of 612 Oakland Ave., which was parked in front of his residence. There was major damage.

Witnesses gave the police a description of the auto which was reportedly taken to a Frankfort body shop for repair. Setty was arrested a short time later.

Six accidents were reported to police and sheriff's departments Monday. There were no injuries.

Fountain, 49, of 918 Millwood Ave., which was parked immediately behind him. Minor damage resulted, and Tucker was cited for improper backing.

9:40 p.m. — Robert W. Graham, 18, of 736 E. Temple St., backed from a parking space on E. Market St., striking a car driven by Ruby J. Howe, 18, of 1026 Millwood Ave., which was stopped for a traffic light. Damage was minor.

3:40 p.m. — Tula Lambros, 52, Wilmington, was cited for failing to maintain assured clear distance after her automobile ran into the rear of a car driven by Walter C. Glass, 59, Columbus, at the stop sign on temporary U.S. 62 at Leesburg Avenue. Damage was moderate.

3:55 p.m. — Shirley L. Gilmore, 26, Worthington, was attempting to pass a car driven by Phyllis L. Russell, 22, of U.S. 41-N, as it began a left turn into a private driveway on U.S. 62-S. Damage in the collision was moderate.

6:35 p.m. — Lester H. Wiseman, 35, Waynesboro, Va., was making a left turn from Ohio 753 onto U.S. 35 in a tractor-trailer when the rear tire scraped the front fender of a car driven by Wanda L. Harlan, 34, Rt. 5, Washington C.H., which was stopped on U.S. 35.

Watergate panel to hear Hunt on resumption

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee announced today it will resume public hearings on Monday with the testimony of Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt, then question three other witnesses as part of the political sabotage phase of its probe.

Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said the panel will hear from Hunt, then White House secret agent John J. Caulfield, presidential speech writer Patrick J. Pat Buchanan, and a man identified as John Ragan.

Ervin also said the panel will meet in executive session Wednesday with former special presidential counsel Charles W. Colson to determine whether Colson be called as a witness.

Colson was tentatively stricken from the witness list last week after his lawyer reportedly told the committee that Colson expected to be indicted in connection with the Ellsberg burglary. It also has been reported that Colson has indicated he would take the Fifth Amendment and refuse to testify if he were not given immunity.

The cans. The Food and Drug Administration, however, said its own tests of the same brands showed the lead content well below the danger level.

In addition to requiring that fancifully named cuts be labeled to show where they come from on the animal, the new meat industry program calls for standardizing names for the different cuts, reducing their number from 1,000 to 300.

Two of the top three national food chains, A&P and Kroger, said they would comply. Safeway said it believes it is already in compliance.

The plan would require, for example, that "London Broil" be labeled to indicate whether it was shoulder steak, flank steak or plate steak. It makes a difference in how lean the meat is.

The Cost of Living Council endorsed the program in letters to chief executives of grocery chains.

Consumers Union said it tested two cans each of six brands of condensed milk: A&P, Borden Silver Cow, Carnation Velveting, Food Fair, Grand Union Homogenized and Pet.

It said all were above the federal guideline of 0.5 parts lead per million parts of milk. The average level was 0.7, the consumer organization said.

The FDA said it tested 79 samples from 10 manufacturers, including the six tested by Consumers Union, and the highest level it found was 0.37.

"The FDA does not consider any brand of evaporated milk now on the market to be in violation of FDA rules for safety or in any way unfit for consumer use," the agency said.

Lead can cause nervous disorders or death, especially in small children.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices were mixed today as near-term profit taking eroded some early gains, brokers said.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which had gained more than 12 points in Friday and Monday trading was off 2.64 at 890.35 at noon. Advances narrowly led declines in moderate activity on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,500 common stocks was off .18 at 55.72 at noon.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was ahead .07 at 99.82.

Both IBM and Telex have been delayed in opening again today on the New York Stock Exchange. A lake shore warning was issued today for the southern shore of Lake Erie from Cedar Point east to Lackawanna, N.Y.

The National Weather Service forecast waves six to eight feet, shore erosion and flooding for the area early today under 28-to-40-knot west and northwest winds.

The winds were forecast to decrease this afternoon and tonight, and waves tonight should range from two to four feet.

Showers ended across most of the state overnight, and at daybreak only a few showers remained in the extreme northeast along Lake Erie and into Pennsylvania.

Clearing skies were expected over the state today.

Most of the state received showers Monday, but amounts were not heavy, ranging up to .27-inch in Zanesville.

Cool temperatures were forecast to continue through Wednesday with highs today in the 60s and highs tomorrow in the 60s and low 70s.

A low pressure area pushed over the state Monday, triggering the showers. A high pushing into Ohio will dominate the weather through Wednesday.

A combination of the deepening low and the high is responsible for the high winds which produced shore warnings for Lake Erie.

There will be a chance of showers in Ohio Thursday or Friday with clearing about Saturday. Highs all three days will be in the 60s and low 70s. Lows will be in the 50s.

Engineers nix canal proposal

BUFFALO (AP) — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has announced that an All-American Canal connecting Lakes Erie and Ontario is not economically justified.

In the report released Monday, the Buffalo district office of the Corps said that some major waterway improvement was needed in the Great Lakes area either in the form of a new waterway or major structural improvements to the Welland Canal in Ontario, Canada.

"A decision must be made by 1980, assuming maximum funding support, to prevent constraint of waterborne traffic by 1990," the report said.

Firemen free girl from pickling crock

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Gail Kelly admitted she panicked when her 2 1/2-year-old daughter Erin got her hand caught in an Early American pickling crock Monday.

"She panicked and I panicked," said Mrs. Kelly. A neighbor greased Erin's arm with a lubricant, but that didn't

Cholera like fire, survivor says

By JOHN LUMPKIN
Associated Press Writer
PORT LAVACA, Tex. (AP) — He sat at a table, smoking an occasional cigarette and drinking coffee.

He said he didn't attach any special historical significance to his having contracted the first confirmed case of cholera in more than five decades in the United States.

He said he felt like, "Why did it have to be me?"

"But it was. And the way it turned out, I'm all right. They caught it in time. I was just lucky that they did catch it in time."

Now the 51-year-old father of three said he is ready to return to his job as a handy man. He consented to tell his story to The Associated Press as long as he wasn't identified, with the explanation that he dislikes publicity.

The victim attributed his survival to quick diagnosis by medical personnel here and treatment at Champ Traylor Hospital in this Texas coastal town. Doctors said at one point he had stopped breathing.

The victim also said he is alive because of "the good Lord. If it wasn't for Him, I wouldn't be here.... It is something that you've got to have to know how bad it really was."

"I've known pain because I had a broken back and two stomach operations and I have had pneumonia, but I've never known pain that was that bad. It just seemed like your whole body was a flame of fire."

He said he was stricken during the last week of August as he prepared to leave his trailer home at nearby Magnolia Beach on a fishing trip.

His attending physician allowed a young doctor who suspected cholera to begin treatment.

"If you go to a medical textbook and look up the symptoms of cholera, he had a classic case," the victim's doctor said.

Since he contracted the disease, the victim's family and other persons have been tested, but all tests have been negative.

"We very confidently do not expect another case of cholera," said Clayton Tolson, Calhoun County's sanitarian.

The victim said he had been told that his stomach operations had left him with less of the stomach acidity needed

Watergate won't hurt Republicans, Bush believes

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Republican National Chairman George Bush said Monday night he doesn't expect Watergate to affect the chances of GOP candidates next year.

Bush, here to address the Ohio Realtors Convention today, said, "I don't really believe the party is a loser out of Watergate."

Asked about reports that Vice President Spiro Agnew would resign this week, Bush said the story "comes as some surprise to me." He said he had heard nothing about the possible resignation before leaving Washington Monday night and declined further comment.

Bush said he believes President Nixon's "new majority" is still viable and the GOP strategy in both gubernatorial and congressional elections in 1974 will try "to capitalize on the voters President Nixon got," on the basis of "ethics, labor and minorities."

Kiwanians hold business session

Routine business was transacted by the board of directors at its session during the Kiwanis Club meeting Monday night.

The board meets the third Monday of each month in the presence of the entire membership. Members may speak and express their views or make suggestions, but may not vote on proposals or projects. The session, which was held as usual following dinner in the Lafayette Inn, was conducted by the president, the Rev. Gerald Wheat.

Following the business meeting, George Gibbs, the incoming president, conducted a training session for newly appointed committee chairmen. Many ideas and policies were discussed and passed along to the committee heads. Among the coming events are a "ladies night" dinner and program on Sept. 24; the 10-W District Council meeting Oct. 8 at the Grendview Inn, and the annual President's Party on Oct. 29.

Crash kills bank bandit

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 45-year-old man who allegedly held up a National City Bank branch in suburban North Olmsted Monday was killed a short time later in a three-car crash during a police chase.

The dead man was identified as Louis C. Laurito of Cleveland.

Police said the holdup man demanded money from a woman teller but did not show a gun. The teller hit a silent alarm button and handed the man $1,500, police reported.

Two patrolmen responded quickly to the alarm, spotted a man answering the robber's description and gave chase.

Police said $1,500 was recovered from a manila envelope under the front seat of the car in which Laurito died.

Committee not stymied

Sen. Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii has made a point about the White House tapes which merits some attention.

The courtroom efforts to force surrender of these tapes have brought many to an erroneous conclusion. This is that without these records of President Nixon's conversations with aides implicated in the Watergate scandal the Senate investigating committee will be stymied. As Sen. Inouye observes, this is not actually the case.

"As far as I'm concerned personally, he said in a television interview, "this is where the difference between a legislative proceeding and a judicial proceeding comes in. If this were a criminal matter, I would say that the tapes are absolutely necessary, essential."

The distinction is an important one. Both the federal grand jury and the Senate committee are seeking the tapes. For the committee, access to them would be desirable as a means of sorting out conflicting testimony. For the grand jury, the tapes constitute evidence vital to the determination of who shall or shall not be indicted and charged with criminal offenses.

There has been a rather widespread assumption that the Senate committee cannot produce a full report until the tapes have been heard. As Inouye notes, this is not the case. The committee has made an exhaustive investigation and has heard — and will continue to hear — voluminous testimony and response to questioning. The tapes would be a welcome addition to the material at hand, but it should be possible to produce a solid report without them.

Shultz and Laird: one-eyed kings

WASHINGTON — In the valley of the blind, the one-eyed is king. That explains a lot about Melvin Robert Laird's role in the Nixon Administration.

Laird represented central Wisconsin in the state senate and in Congress for a quarter-century. Unlike Haldeman, Ehrlichman and Mitchell, unlike Kissinger, Ziegler and Haig, he had to go out and explain himself, to look people in the eye, to run for office.

But just because elective politics is considered wizardry in the White House, that does not mean that Mel Laird is as smart and sagacious as Evans and Novak say he is.

Mel Laird, in fact, can be too clever by half, manipulating the media like a mad scientist until the experiment blows up in his face and singes his Mephistophelean eyebrows.

HE DID THAT last week after President Nixon on Monday pledged no new taxes. The next day, Arthur Burns met with the President for what the White House described as "a private meeting."

Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, has his doubts as to whether inflation can be fought solely on the basis of balancing the budget and making borrowing too expensive, which is his job at the Fed.

So Burns discloses to a House committee on Wednesday that the President would be "sympathetic" to a new tax increase, to force Americans to save their money instead of throwing it on the inflation pyre.

Arthur Burns is a man the President does not want to offend, because coordination between fiscal and monetary policies really is essential.

So one can almost hear Laird's soothing advice to the President. One can almost see his grin as he says "Let me take care of this one, boss."

He trots out to the press room, unloads a prospectus for a Rube Goldberg device of "deferred" tax payments, then leaves, having presumably mollified Burns with the news that the President is seriously considering such an anti-inflation idea.

BUT IN TOKYO, George Shultz, Secretary of the Treasury and President Nixon's chief economic adviser and chief economic spokesman made Mel Laird look less like Merlin and more like the court jester.

Laird can "keep his cotton-pickin' hands off economic policy," said Shultz, as he was interrupted during vital trade negotiations with the Japanese. Shultz put down Burns, too, suggesting that both he and Laird follow the President's economic policy — woful as it may be — and "not keep sharpshooting it week after week."

George Shultz, a former academic, is a candid man in an administration of be-foggers and traducers.

In the valley of the blind, he too is a one-eyed king, but his realm is one of blunt honesty, not back-slapping politics.

At least for the moment, score it for Shultz by a TKO.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 19

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Don't let matters slide now or their beneficial conclusions will be greatly delayed. Others are watching their interests avidly; so should you — and with keen eye.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Tighten reins a bit to observe with more ease and surety where you are headed. Nothing should sway you from principles, but do avoid stubbornness.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Don't be too sure that your interests are not progressing; look over the picture again. There is a proper delaying action in some areas. Don't give up.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Generally, a day for action, but be careful not to run out of bounds. On the other hand, delaying tactics could also be unwise. Judge carefully.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Beneficent solar influences continue. Take advantage of the situation. Don't expect the unreasonable in returns, however.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

You may have difficulty in persuading, gaining your point. As with Gemini, you may not see all the reasons for opposition, but do not become discouraged or back down.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Don't regard decisions made in the a.m. as final. Certain circumstances may necessitate revision later in the day.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Be cautious in dealing with associates. Some may urge you to make certain commitments against your better judgment. Don't let yourself be pressured.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Home and family concerns under highly beneficial stars. In fact, a recent domestic problem will finally be straightened out satisfactorily.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

You have good reason for optimism now. A superior's enthusiasm for your efforts not only pays off, but further spurs your ambition and incentive.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Staff changes could bring some extra chores, more responsibility, but don't be above picking another's brains for helpful guidance, if you have to do so.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Others may be overly aggressive, pressing for their "rights" to the exclusion of yours. Watch your own interests. Don't let them push you around.

YOU BORN TODAY are not only a highly individualistic person, but excessively choosy when it comes to picking out your associates. Be careful that this characteristic does not develop into snobishness or smugness. This is especially important since you are the type of individual who will probably travel a great deal, engage in more than one occupation and meet a wide variety of people. Welcoming all into your life can broaden your horizons considerably. Curb any side of your nature which tends to be self-limiting. You are extremely versatile and could be eminently successful in the fields of education, the law, statesmanship, literature, journalism or the theater.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

On Sept. 11 there appeared in your paper an article headlined "County Health Council Eyes Major Projects." One of those projects had to do with a bill in the state legislature "setting up expanded and more efficient ambulance service."

I have not had an opportunity to read the proposed bill, but there is one thing of which we can be reasonably sure — some well-paid bureaucrat is going to be placed in the position of telling us drastic changes will have to be made as far as our present ambulance service is concerned.

We could well end up with the state injecting themselves into a situation which is being very adequately handled by local people. The fact that it is adequate and satisfactory was attested to by no less an authority than the administrator of our local hospital, Mr. Kunz.

If such changes are forced by the "Know-best Planners" (probably involving abandonment of the vehicles which are now serving us so well), then I would hope the dedicated individuals who are taking training in The Emergency Service Program could be a part of the solution here in our county.

The pictures of these individuals, together with some of their vehicles and equipment appeared in the Sept. 6 Record-Herald.

My congratulations and best wishes go to these citizens and any others who are involved but did not appear in the photo.

I hope their efforts meet with unqualified success.

Hal Boyle . Marriage makes the husband

NEW YORK (AP) — Courtship makes the courtier. Marriage makes the husband.

When they first met, he swore he would fight through seas of flame to be at her side. After they were married, he cursed aloud if she handed him a piece of hot toast at breakfast.

He used to want to tell her with every breath he took how much he loved her. Now he probably couldn't think of the word love if he needed it to fill out a crossword puzzle.

There was a time when he couldn't keep his hands off her. But that was before they made the trip to the altar. Now if he reaches toward her, she wonders whether she should call the cops or a neighbor for help.

Before they exchanged their marital vows, he told her he wouldn't mind if they had more children than the old woman who lived in a shoe. Well, they stopped coming after four, and now when he comes home from work, he puts wax stoppers in his ears so he can't hear the kids.

Fondly she dreamed of dining by candlelight with him for the rest of their lives. Then he found out that two candles cost 49 cents, and now they eat by the light of a 60-watt bulb.

She remembers fondly how she used to cuddle in his lap for hours at a stretch. Now if she has to sit in his lap for a few moments in a crowded car coming home from a cocktail party, he welcomes her by exclaiming gaily, "All right, folks, make room for the elephant."

When they were courting they never spoke of politics. But now if she votes for the same political candidate as he does, he accuses her of having no mind of her own and mimicking him. But if she votes for a different candidate, he says she is stupid and women shouldn't have the right to vote anyway.

In his days as a romantic gallant, he rushed to take the lightest package from her arms and told her she was far too fragile to carry heavy loads. Now, when they are shopping, he hands her all the bundles, and lets her go first through the revolving doors — so she has to do most of the pushing.

Is this the guy who once promised her the moon? It is. And is it the same guy who now whines about the waste of money if she orders a 60-cent dessert on the one night a month they eat out? It is, indeed.

All in all, she realizes, their life together isn't too bad. She knows she can put up with him, but he has changed so much from the sweet boy she once knew that she wonders if she is at fault.

But she isn't to blame at all. The essential truth is:

Courtship makes a courtier; marriage changes him into a husband.

Dear Abby:

Can a man tell if she's had silicone implants?

DEAR ABBY: Can a man tell if a woman has had silicone implants to enlarge her breasts? (I don't mean by looking, I mean by touching.)

I've talked to two girls who have had it done, and one says a man would have to be awfully dumb not to know, because hers feel like grapefruit. She said she's not sorry she did it because they look fine.

The other girl said nobody could tell she had anything done.

Are there any telltale marks? What do your experts have to say about this?

CONSIDERING IT

DEAR CONSIDERING: The girl with the "grapefruit" must have had her implants some time ago when harder materials were used. Softer material are now used that feel like the real thing.

To answer your question: Whether a man could tell if a woman had had a breast im-plant would depend on the amount of breast tissue she had before surgery and the way she healed. The only telltale marks are the tiny scars under the breasts, which in time become practically invisible. And if a layman tried to prove that a girl had had it done, he'd have his hands full.

DEAR ABBY: This may sound like I'm bragging, and I suppose I am, but this is the way it was:

A couple of weeks ago I was walking past my husband's chair in the living room when he reached out and took my hand and said: "Honey, will you marry me?" (We were married in 1935!) I said: "Are you trying to tell me we aren't married after all these years?" He grinned and replied: "Oh, we're good and married. I'm taking an early retirement, and we're going to start all over again, just the two of us, like we did 38 years ago. If you'd like to go through another wedding with me, I'd lie it, too."

Well, I sat down and bawled. I called a local minister and explained it to him, saying I hoped he wouldn't think it was funny. He said he didn't think it was funny at all, he thought it was beautiful, and he agreed to perform the ceremony for us. (We didn't need another license or blood test.)

My sister, who lives in Bishop, Calif., was my bridesmaid when we were first married, so I called her and asked if she'd do it again. She said: "Tell me when you want me, and I'll be there if I have to take a bus." My brother will be our best man.

This may strike you as nothing special, but it sure means the world to me.

MARRYING DON AGAIN

BALDWIN PARK, CAL.
DEAR MARRYING: I think it's beautiful. Congratulations and God bless you. More couples should renew their marriage vows.

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with a recent correspondent who wrote: "Most cancer victims read the obituaries with apprehension and fear."

My vocal cords were removed by surgery 13 years ago because of throat cancer. Instead of apprehension and fear, I have confidence in the future and enjoy life today.

I am not a victim—but a victor, thanks to the progress that's made the kind of cancer I had curable in almost every instance if detected in time.

JERRY F. CROWLEY

DEAR JERRY: You are a victor indeed, and I think you for this opportunity to remind my readers to see their doctors for periodic checkups.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Sept 18, the 261st day of 1973. There are 104 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1793, President George Washington laid the cornerstone of the U.S. capitol building in Washington.

On this date —

In 1759, the french formally surrendered Quebec to the British.

In 1810, Chile declared independence from Spain.

In 1850, the U.S. Congress passed the fugitive slave act, permitting slave owners to reclaim slaves who had escaped into other states.

In 1931, Japan began military occupation of Manchuria.

In 1950, Omar Bradley was made a five-star general of the U.S. Army.

In 1961, U.N. secretary-general Dag Hammarskjöld was killed in an airplane crash in northern Rhodesia.

Ten years ago ... An Indonesia mob sacked and burned the British embassy in Jakarta in protest against Britain's support of the newly formed nation of Malaysia.

Five years ago ... Violence flared on the campus of Columbia university when militant students blocked a doorway in the administration building.

One year ago ... President Nixon said he would cut off aid to any government whose leaders protected traffic in narcotics.

Today's birthdays: Greta Garbo, one of the most famous of all film actresses, is 68.

Thought for today: Let us never negotiate out of fear, but let us never fear to negotiate — John Kennedy.

Venus, the second planet from the sun, is sometimes called the earth's twin sister, because of its similar size and mass.

Miss Grubb, Cpl. Sword wed in First Christian Church

Miss Dianne Sue Grubb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grubb, 926 Millwood Ave., became the bride of Cpl. Ricky Lee Sword, son of Mrs. Sarah Sword and the late Hubert Sword, 432 Earl Ave.

Rev. Don Baker performed the double-ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 1 in First Christian Church. Two seven-branch candelabra entwined with ivy and white bows, and two vases of pink and orchid gladiolus adorned the altar.

A prelude of wedding selections and the traditional Wedding March were presented by Mrs. Wayne Spengler, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white lace. The empire bodice featured a lace collar and puff sleeves. Her gathered skirt of lace had satin ribbon insertion and a wide flounce encircled the hemline. She wore a white silk picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, daisies and baby's breath with pink streamers.

Mrs. Charles Pine, matron of honor, wore a floor-length gown of pink polyester crepe featuring a scoop neckline accented by a white collar. She wore a pink bow in her hair and carried three long-stemmed pink roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Melanie Heath, Mrs. Keith Blade, Miss Debbie Wilburn and Miss Jeannie Penwell. They wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor except in orchid, with matching hair bows, and carried two pink long-stemmed roses. Each attendant wore a carved ivory rose pendant, a gift of the bride.

Cpl. Wayne Gearhart served as best man. Doug and Dale Grubb, Ronnie and Steve Sword served as ushers.

Little Stacey McDaniels was flower girl. She wore a long pink gown with matching bow and carried one pink rose. Chucky Flora was the ringbearer.

Hostesses for the reception held at the church were Mrs. Butch Pauley, Mrs. Steve Sword, Mrs. Doug Grubb and Mrs. Dale Grubb. Mrs. Joyce McDaniels presided at the guest book.

The bride's mother greeted guests in a mint green floor-length gown, with empire waist and white accessories. The groom's mother wore a floor length gown of powder blue with white accessories. Each wore a corsage of pink and orchid carnations.

Mrs. Hattie Sword, the groom's grandmother, and Mrs. Irene Pierce, grandmother of the bride, wore white carnation corsages.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will reside with their parents, but will leave for North Carolina at the end of the month. Mrs. Sword is a graduate of Washington Senior High. Her husband, a graduate of Kubasaki High School in Okinawa, is serving in the United States Marine Corps.

The wedding party and guests were entertained at dinner following the rehearsal on Friday evening by Mrs. Sarah Sword, the groom's mother, at her home.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G.E. Bidwell, 520 S. Main St., for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Smith and daughters DeeDee and Nona of Dayton, and Mr. and Mrs. H.O. Hager of Plain City.

Must: Sound Decisions By Government And Individuals!

Things ARE looking good in this land of America!

The average American worker now produces goods and services worth more than $7,000 per year. This is at least 35 per cent more than that in 1950.

America is now moving more than ever before, and you and I are part of that forward movement.

We are, indeed, fortunate to live in the greatest nation in the world.

To perpetuate this greatness we need sound decisions in the management of our personal and governmental financial affairs, and a practical understanding of the economic results of our actions.

You and I must give our constant attention and understanding if the best, most abundant, and most successful of economic systems in the world is to endure.

Congratulations to Dr. and Mrs. John G. Jordan on their 57th wedding anniversary.

Congratulations to the Washington Blue Lions and the Miami Trace Panthers on winning their opening football games.

Well done to Cindy Grover on receiving first place in sheep showmanship at the Ohio State Fair.

Best wishes to Carl W. Wilt, Sr. on his retirement from Moore's Store.

At The First National Bank of Washington Court House, we believe in America and our Free Enterprise System.

And, we believe in helping you in any way we can to live better and to enjoy the American Way of living.

Ohio State ranked third

Southern Cal atop poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern California again is the No. 1 team in the Associated Press college football poll. That's no surprise, since the Trojans have owned the top spot since the first week of 1972.
What is surprising is the capricious reaction of Southern Cal's coach, John McKay.
"I don't know or care whether we're rated No. 1 next week," he said Saturday night after the Trojans had recorded a 17-0 victory over Arkansas in their opener. "I didn't even think we should have been No. 1 last week."
McKay changed his line Monday, saying that USC deserves the top spot. A poll of 60 sports writers and broadcasters who participated this week gave the Trojans 38 first-place votes and a total of 1,106 points.
But Nebraska, Ohio State and Alabama, the next three ranked teams, will be out to challenge Southern Cal as the college football season enters its second week.

McKay was skeptical of the teams' chances of bumping USC from the lead, however, especially those of Ohio State, which defeated Minnesota 56-7.
"I'm not impressed with Minnesota," McKay said wryly. "They've won about three games in 10 years."
Nebraska, idle last weekend, received eight first place points and 995 points overall, and the Buckeyes took third with 11 votes for first and an aggregate of 944.
Last week the spread between the first three teams was 1,168-1,121-838.
Alabama jumped from sixth place to fourth by virtue of their 66-0 rout of California. The victory earned the Crimson Tide two first-place votes and 809 points.
Michigan topped Iowa 31-7 to retain its hold on fifth place with 666 points. Texas, which doesn't open its season until Friday night, fell from fourth to sixth with 615 points.

Penn State, the only other first-place vote-getter, took seventh with a 20-6 defeat of Stanford.
Rounding out the Top Ten were Notre Dame, which begins its season Saturday against Northwestern; Oklahoma, which clubbed Baylor 42-14 to move from 11th place to ninth, and Tennessee, which dropped from ninth to 10th despite a last-minute, 21-17 triumph over Duke.

The Second Ten included Louisiana State, Auburn, Arizona State, North Carolina State, Florida, Houston, Oklahoma State, UCLA, and Colorado, with Bowling Green and Missouri tied for 20th.
Oklahoma State, Bowling Green and Missouri are making their first appearance in the Top Twenty. They replaced North Carolina, which came from behind to trip William & Mary 34-27, and Texas Tech, which rallied for a 29-22 victory over Utah.
Last week's Second Ten was Oklahoma, Auburn, Arizona State, Florida, LSU, UCLA, North Carolina State, Houston, North Carolina and Texas Tech.

Brown Jug field ready

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — A field of 13 or more 3-year-old pacers was expected to enter the draw today for Thursday's Little Brown Jug, the final jewel of Pacing's Triple Crown.
Topping the list of expected entries were Valiant Bret, winner of the Messenger Stake May 19, first event of the triple crown, and Smog, winner of the second top event, the Cane Pace July 14.
Another strong challenger and almost certain entry was Ricci Reenie Time, who had a sensational year as a 2-year-old, but got off to a slow start this season. Ricci Reenie Time has done better recently, winning four of his last five starts.
Other probable entries were J. R. Skipper, Otaro Hanover, Armbr Nesbit, Keystone Smartie, Faraway Bay, Steady Airliner, American Skipper and Playboy Hanover.
Other strong possibilities were Racking Knight and Honey Cane, who'd be bidding to become the first local horse to win the Jug.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Reds Manager George "Sparky" Anderson has been fined $300 and catcher Johnny Bench $200 plus a two-day suspension by the National League, it was announced Monday. Bench's case has been appealed.
The actions by National League President Charles Feeney resulted from the ejection of both Saturday night by umpire Andy Olsen.

Birds reduce number on Williams home run

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here is Manager Earl Weaver, leading the rest of baseball's American League East Division by so many games that his Baltimore Orioles don't even make Pennant Races At A Glance. And he tells you how tough things are for him these days.
"This was a big one, no doubt about it," explained Weaver after the Orioles had reduced the magic number for clinching their title to six Monday night by defeating the New York Yankees 5-4 in 10 innings on Earl Williams' home run.
Why was it big? After all, Baltimore is leading the division by 7½ games with less than two weeks to go.
"If we had lost three out of four to the Yankees, we would have had to play over .500 ball to clinch," said Weaver. "Now, we don't."

Brown says emotionalism beat Bengals

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown, scowling over his 28-10 opening game defeat Sunday by Denver, lamented he was beaten by the things a coach can't coach.

"We caught a team in an emotional frenzy," said Brown, preparing to reopen practice today. "The way to cool it off is to play defense, and we didn't."

"It started with the defense, but it got into the offense. We did move the ball, but something happened. We couldn't keep on moving it."

Brown said Denver made a shambles of the right side of the defense. The linemen on the right side are Ron Carpenter and Sherman White. Ron Pritchard is the linebacker.

"They ran to their left, our right side, an awful lot, particularly in the first half" when three touchdowns were scored. "They obviously set it up that way."

"What we're talking about here has to come from within, from the true pro. If they don't see it in the pictures today, then it's too bad, but it'll help us with our drafting plans."

Tighten Up victorious in Latonia feature

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Captain Stevens and Babington's Image, top weighted at 120 pounds, head a field of seven horses tonight in the $3,000 featured eighth race at Latonia over six furlongs.

Tighten Up won the feature Monday night in 1:15 2-5 over the same distance and paid $18.20, $7 and $6.40. Duke's Sister placed, paying $6.40 and $4.80, and Patience Pays was third at $5.

The 2-3 daily double combination of Nuthin To Eat and Pana Prince returned $90.60. The crowd of 4,471 wagered $420,732.

He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Downs, 811 S. Main St.

Rose cracks record in Cincy's setback

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Houston Astros snapped a seven-game winning streak for the Cincinnati Reds Monday night, but that didn't prevent Red left fielder Pete Rose from setting another record.

Houston pitcher Dave Roberts allowed the Reds seven hits in his 5-2 victory, and Rose grabbed two of them.
Rose tied, then broke a 68-year-old team record for total hits in a single season. Cy Seymour had held the record with 219 hits in 1905.

Rose got a standing ovation from the crowd of 17,585 as he took second on a run-scoring single in the fourth inning.
"That was nice," said the Reds lefthander. His 220 hits now is near tying Frankie Frisch's 1923 record of 223 hits for a switch-hitter in a single season.

"I'd like to hold every single Cincinnati record," said Rose, a Cincinnati native, "but I'm not a home run hitter so I won't set records like that."
"What I have is a chance to be the best switch-hitter of all time."

Rose earlier this season joined the 2,000 career hits club and looks forward to being the only active major leaguer to hit better than .300 for nine consecutive seasons.

"You like to see a guy like Rose set records," said Reds Manager Sparky Anderson. "He deserves it. He works so hard. I'm sure the players on the other club like to see him do things like that."

Houston Catcher Alfred "Skip" Jutze had two hits and scored twice to help defeat the National League Western Division-leading Reds.

Jutze won the Houston catching job following the injury and illness of John Edwards.

"I'm just up there swinging at the pitches I like," said Jutze. "I'm hoping that I can show the organization I can hit and catch and have a shot at next year."

Cesar Cedeno hit his 23rd homer in the first inning and Bob Watson hit his 14th in the fourth.

PETE ROSE

Hank Aaron hit another home run and there was a homer record tied in Atlanta.

But relax. You didn't sleep though Nos. 711 through 713. It wasn't Aaron's record.

Dave Johnson performed two remarkable feats Monday night when the Atlanta Braves blanked the San Diego Padres 7-0.

He belted his 42nd homer of the 1973 baseball season, tying Rogers Hornsby's mark set in 1922 for most trots around the bases by a second baseman.

But then he performed the near-impossible. He stole some of the thunder from Aaron, who belted No. 711 two batters earlier and now needs three

Concepcion promises speedy comeback bid

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Reds' shortstop Dave Concepcion, his best big league season cut short by an injury, says his comeback bid begins the day he casts off his crutches.

"I'll be ready for spring training," vowed the 25-year-old Venezuelan who broke a bone in his ankle two days before he was to accompany four Cincinnati teammates to the All-Star Game in July.

Concepcion returned last week from a three-week stay in native Maracay, Venezuela, to have his cast removed.
"I plan to start playing baseball again in December in the winter leagues. So far everything looks good."

"The biggest thing I have to do is forget what happened. I don't think it will be rough," he said.

Now Concepcion is back in the dugout with his Cincinnati teammates after his stint as a long-distance fan.

"I watched the papers every day in Maracay to see how my team was doing. One day they were in first place," Concepcion said.

"It hurt a lot to miss this. I would rather miss all the All-Star games to be in a World Series. When I was hurt we were five games behind Los Angeles. But I knew we would catch them," he said.

His July 22 accident occurred while he was going from first to third on an infield grounder. He caught his spikes while sliding and suffered the bone break and dislocation.

Packers smother Jets, 23-7

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ken Ellis had just been awarded the game ball, but his frown hardly reflected it.
"That last touchdown pass is still in my mind. Darn! It will take me a week to get over that," the young Green Bay cornerback fretted.

Ellis needn't worry. He was victimized on a 17 yard touchdown pass from Al Woodall to David Knight, a pair of reserves, with 27 seconds left Monday night, but by that time Ellis and his Packer defensive mates had driven the New York Jets' brilliant quarterback, Joe Namath, to the bench in abject frustration.

Smothering Namath when it counted and running a relentless ball control offense directed by their own quarterback, the much criticized Scott Hunter, the Packers thrashed the Jets 23-7 in a nationally televised National Football League opener.

Namath, who led the NFL in touchdown passes and passing yardage last year, completed 16 of 32 for 203 yards against the National Conference's No. 1 pass defense of a year ago.

But after the Jets' first series, which ended in a missed 41 yard field goal attempt by Bobby Howfield, Namath couldn't lead the Jets past midfield until 7:41 remained to be played. By that time the Packers had sacked Namath three times and intercepted him once in rolling to a 23-0 lead.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Chapin is a man a lot of kids look up to as the star of ABC-TV's "Make a Wish" Sunday childrens' series. Off-camera, he's looked up to by most adults, partly because he stands 6 foot 5.
He was a basketball star at New York's Plattsburgh State College and could have turned pro. Instead, he chose to carve out a career as a singer-guitarist, having performed professionally since age 14.
Chapin, 28, is into what you'd call the folk-rock bag. When interviewed last week, he was working on said bag with Mt. Airy, a five-man band with a good local reputation but no record contract yet.
They were rehearsing at a dingy studio deep in the heart of Manhattan's garment district. Afterwards, he was led to a nearby saloon — he doesn't drink, but no coffee shop was open — to talk about his show.
He was accompanied by two of the guys in the band — his brother, Steve, who plays bass, and Bob Hinkel, a guitarist. They all grinned now and then as Tom explained how he got into the television business.
"I was playing with a group called the Chapins, which included Steve and myself and two other guys," he said. "We were semimaking a living when I heard the 'Make a Wish' people needed a host.
"They'd gone through most of the actor types in New York and couldn't find anybody. I'm not even sure if they knew what they were looking for, but they were calling around the folk (music) houses and looking for a folk singer."

Chapin, a friendly, unpretentious minstrel, said he immediately presented himself at ABC and "met this woman and she sort of just looks at me. Then he sits me down and starts walking around."
"She says, 'Very interesting' and calls in another woman and they both look at me. Then we do some screen tests with a bunch of other dudes ... and they finally decide on me."
Chapin now is in his third year as star of "Make a Wish," a series that has won a Peabody Award and his recommended for viewing by the National Educational Association, according to ABC.

Lieutenant governorship studied

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Many Democrats who would like to make up the party's 1974 state ticket would like to see former astronaut John Glenn Jr. change his mind about running for lieutenant governor.
It isn't likely, unless someone can change what seems to be a completely made-up mind. Glenn wants to make another bid for U. S. Senate and says at this point he is interested in nothing else.

Personnel issues on county school agenda tonight

Personnel matters are expected to top the agenda for members of the Fayette County Board of Education at the regular semi-monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Superintendent Guy M. Foster said the board will consider employment of three teachers, including a special education instructor. The board will also hear a teacher resignation and the retirement of another teacher in addition to employing several substitute teachers, bus drivers and cooks.

A report on student transfers and a report on the campaign for the proposed junior high school will be heard by board members. The board is expected to authorize driver education classes to be held in the evenings and Saturday, beginning Sept. 29.

Board members will hear a report on lunchroom service and miscellaneous matters, including requests for attendance at professional meetings, a tuition request and review of the monthly financial statement.

Ministers to meet

The Fayette County Ministerial Association will hold its regular meeting at 8:45 a.m. Thursday in the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Gerald Wheat, secretary of the association, said all ministers in Fayette County are invited to attend.

Redman revenues up

DALLAS, Tex. — Redman Industries, Inc. announces that August revenues for manufacturing operations were $24,951,000., up 18.8 per cent over the previous August revenues of $21,000,000.

Gov. John J. Gilligan is known to be looking over other prospects to share the ticket with him next year. He and the lieutenant governor candidate will run separately, but Gilligan is sure to have a lot to say about the No. 2 candidate so the party will have a team in spirit if not in law.

Leaders of the Democratic-Ohio House would seem a likely place for the governor to turn, and at least one leader makes no secret he is ready to accept the nod.

Rep. Richard F. Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, the House majority whip, is reported deeply interested in making a bid for lieutenant governor, but would like to get the nod either overtly or covertly from Gilligan, close associates say.

Celeste carried the ball in several key legislative programs for the governor in the 1973 session, and had a hand in producing a House-Senate compromise in a successful code of ethics bill which Gilligan called his No. 1 legislative priority.

Celeste, a second-term representative, impressed some political observers with his vote-getting ability in the 5th District of crucial Cuyahoga County where he polled 60 per cent of the votes in 1972. He overcame a 52-48 per cent Republican district registration edge.

Senate Democratic Leader Anthony O. Calabrese, D-22, Cleveland, was the party's candidate for lieutenant governor in 1970. He ran well against long-time GOP incumbent, Lt. Gov. John W. Brown. Brown won by only 155,186 votes out of 2,954,488 cast.

However, Gilligan and Calabrese, a tough political infighter and strong party voice for many years, have basic difference in style as well as philosophy. Their legislative differences in recent months seem only to have broadened the gap.

Meanwhile, Celeste — and no doubt others — are awaiting some word on Gilligan's preference. Friends describe the 35-year-old Celeste as "a party man," and say he will go along with the governor's choice. He reportedly would make the race for secretary of state if the No. 2 spot isn't open to him.

Opening lead — king of diamonds. Assume you're in six hearts and West leads the king of diamonds. How would you play the hand?

To give yourself the best chance for the contract, ruff the diamond and lead the A-K of trumps. If the trumps are divided 2-2, you can assure the contract by cashing the ace of clubs and continuing with a low club. (You can't afford to cash the ace and then the king, because you would go down if either opponent had four or five clubs headed by the queen.)

If the trumps are divided 3-1, with East having three of them, cash the A-K of spades and ace of clubs before leading a third round of trumps. If East returns a spade or a diamond you have twelve ironclad tricks, so he will presumably return a club. All you can do in that case is finesse and hope for the best.

If it turns out that West is the player with three trumps — the actual case — you put him on the lead with a trump after cashing the A-K of spades.

He is then forced to return a spade, a diamond or a club, every one of which puts you in clover. Twelve tricks, easy as pie.

By adopting the recommended method of play you give yourself about a 4 to 1 shot at the contract, which is clearly the best you can do under the circumstances.

But note that if you win the opening diamond lead in dummy with the ace, you seriously jeopardize your chances of making the slam and, in the actual case, finish down one.

Exercise for Housewives

Most of my day is filled with taking care of the house and the children. I feel the need for some disciplined exercise, but there are no programs in the small town in which I live.

Do you know of any home-study course in exercise that would be beneficial to a busy mother?

Mrs. J.G., Ind.

Dear Mrs. G.:

Some people would assume that running a household and caring for children would be exercise enough.

Yet there is an important need for specialized exercise to stimulate the blood circulation and the tone of muscles not used in ordinary chores.

It is accepted that some form of regulated exercise is of extreme benefit, physically and emotionally, not only to housewives but to everyone who falls into a pattern of muscular stagnation.

Let's face it, home movies are back. The big reason is the new existing-light cameras now on the market. If you still belong to the old school and think that you have to get out movie lights to shoot color movies in the house at night then you better shift to the new idea now. If you can see it, you can shoot it — that's the story with the XL55 and XL33 movies. Shoot by candlelight, shoot the action around a campfire, night football; this is what you've been waiting for.

How come you can get these shots now when you couldn't before? The reasons are many. For starters there is the superfast f-1.2 Ektar lens; and then there's the 230 degree shutter that delivers 40 per cent more light than the conventional 165 degree shutter. The new viewfinder doesn't steal valuable light from the film image, and the double-vane exposure control that allows all possible light to get right on through to the film. Add these features to the super-fast Kodak Ektachrome 160 movie film which is four times faster than conventional super 8 films and you can get some idea why you can now throw away the movie lights.

A whole new world is now opened up to the movie maker. Shoot it as it really is. No more cords. No more lights. No more unnatural, squinting expressions.

The fall season of CKFN classes got underway last week with some fundamental stuff on choosing camera and film. This week's session will move on to getting full use from your camera. It's not too late to get in on the fall session; so drop in and ask about these classes.

There are many excellent home-study programs available. Very recently I was particularly impressed by an exercise program that has structural validity coupled with a method that relieves the boredom of many other exercise routines.

It is an audio-visual exercise course in which well-planned graded exercise is set to recorded music. Interwoven are excellent instruction, easy to follow, without the need for a master's degree in physical education.

The clear, concise program was devised by Lillian Rowen, a highly trained expert in physical therapy.

In addition to her well-integrated program photographic slides are available which, when combined with the phonograph record can be effectively used by groups of people. Programs like this might fit well with your limited time schedule. Specific information about this program can be obtained by writing to P.O. Box 520, Lenox Hill Station, New York City.

My daughter is planning to marry her second cousin. I need some added assurance that they are not heading for trouble should they decide to have a family.

Aren't children born of such a relationship more prone to birth abnormalities?

Mrs. H.W., R.I.

Dear Mrs. W.:

A well-documented scientific study has pointed out that more than 95 per cent of all children born in a first-cousin marriage will be perfectly normal.

The chances of abnormalities occurring in second-cousin marriage are distinctly less.

There are now excellent programs for genetic counseling. They thoroughly investigate, by blood studies and detailed family histories, the possibility of birth defects in all unusual situations.

I believe that before long the benefits of genetic counseling will be expanded to include all people who are contemplating marriage. In this way, the heartache of birth defects will be materially diminished.

Many commuters never enter cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commuters are changing their spots, says The Road Information Program. Millions of metropolitan workers now drive to work and back without entering the central city.

By 1985, suburb-to-suburb travel will represent more than half of the work trips near our cities, according to the nonprofit research and information agency.

TRIP says the nation's capital is a good example of suburb liberation. Here, 41 per cent of all Washington-area commuters never enter the city.

OFFICE OPENS — William Garnes, right, administrator of the Bureau of Employment Services, was present Tuesday morning to officially open the Washington C. H. office of OBES this morning. Presenting the keys to the new office at 7 Fayette Center is Robert Mace, Chairman of the Fayette County Board of Commissioners. At left is Gayle Kelley, manager of the local office.

Dedication ceremonies held at new OBES office here

Dedication ceremonies for the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services (OBES) office were held Tuesday morning at 7 Fayette Center.

Theme of the office dedication was "The Ohio Bureau of Employment Services: Key to Community Growth."

"The Employment Services aids community development with programs and benefits calculated to assist employers and reduce unemployment, Cayle Kelly, OBES local manager, explained.

The featured speaker, OBES Administrator William E. Garnes, noted the many changes in employment service operations since the first office opened in Washington C.H. Jan. 1, 1941, at 104 E. Market St.

In 1941 the employment service was merely a labor exchange.

"Today, the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services provides effective job placement service, employment counseling and testing, and special services to veterans," Garnes said. "OBES maintains cooperative relationships with other government and community agencies, too," he added.

CITY MANAGER Dan Wolford welcomed the public to the new office and commented on the meaningful relationship the employment bureau enjoys with the city's employers.

Between January and August of this year, Mrs. Kelly's staff of seven has made 474 job placements and processed 1,333 initial claims for unemployment compensation.

Fred Domenico, president of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce presented Mrs. Kelly with a certificate of service to the community.

Administrator Garnes then accepted the key to the office from Robert Mace, chairman of the Fayette County Board of Commissioners.

The Rev. Ralph Wolford, of the First Baptist Church, delivered both the invocation and benediction. Dedication ceremonies were followed by a day-long open house.

Hospital trustees review weekend emergency service

The Board of Trustees of Fayette Memorial Hospital reviewed the contract with out-of-town physicians to provide weekend emergency room service and authorized Robert L. Kunz, hospital administrator, to check the possibility of providing fulltime emergency room service by a physician, who would work with the hospital medical staff.

Results of his study probably will be made to the board at its October meeting.

The board also awarded to the Culligan Soft Water Service a contract to install new water conditioning equipment to replace the 23-year-old system. The Culligan bid of $3,794 was the lowest and best of the three bids received.

Preliminary plans were made for a recognition dinner for hospital volunteers, who have contributed 250, 500, 1,000 or more hours to service at the hospital and to employees employed for 5, 10, 15 and 20 years. The place and date for the affair will be set later.

The administrator's report on hospital operations for August showed 387 admissions; 388 discharges; 2,251 in-patient days; 72.61 daily census; 57 births; 187 baby patient days; 13 deaths; 83.46 percentage occupancy; 91.98 percentage occupancy in medical and surgical departments; 5.02 days length of patient stay; 7.02 days average length of patient stay in medical and surgical departments; 817 X-rays made; 5,056 laboratory procedures; 1,138 emergency room patients; 126 physical therapy cases; 642 inhalation treatments; 56 major operations and 103 minor operations.

Burnett-Ducey Post adds 7 new members

Seven new members were accepted by Burnett-Ducey Post 3493, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the bi-monthly meeting in the VFW home, W. Elm St. They are Eddie L. Jones, Wayne Rudduck, John Fettes, Ernest Stanforth, Clark Rumer Jr., Charles Bradshaw and Bart Mahoney.

Chester Hamulak read a letter from Congressman William J. Harsha saying a bill to raise veteran pensions to compensate for the rise in the cost of living has been passed by the House. A letter from Sen. Max Dennis saying his bill to change Veterans Day back to Nov. 11 is still in the Ohio legislature; the bill was endorsed by the VFW post.

The post agreed to distribute to local places of business the "Hire the Handicapped" posters now being prepared by the state.

After adjournment of the meeting, conducted by Commander Ben Jamison, coffee and rolls were served by members of the Auxiliary.

Chest leaders announce 'recognition incentive'

A new recognition incentive has been added to this year's Community Chest drive, according to President Lee Lynch.

Businesses and industries and their employee groups will be recognized for the investment they make, and the percentage of participation from their employee groups.

A Red Feather Club designation will be given to all individuals and smaller businesses who contribute $100 or more to the 1974 campaign.

The business and industry portion of the drive got underway Monday, with the rural campaign slated to begin Oct. 1, and the city residential effort set for the week of Oct. 8.
